THE FORMULAS
Agastache Tummy Syrup (Huo Xiang Zheng Qi Gao) is the primary formula in Chinese medicine for acute nausea and vomiting from external pathogens. Besides strong anti-emetic (anti-vomiting) actions, Agastache Tummy Syrup is used for many different types of external cold and internal dampness; it is especially effective when the cold and dampness present together. With its strong function to dry damp and rectify qi, this formula can also be used for damp-type acute diarrhea or wind-damp headaches and ear pain. Many anti-emetic formulas taste bad to children (and adults); rejection of the taste of a formula can trigger a gag reflex that is contrary to the treatment strategy. This formulation is designed to be tasty and easy to swallow in order to facilitate a quick turnaround of the condition. It is also safe and effective for morning sickness.

Ingredients

Agastaches Herba (Chinese Giant Hyssop/ Huo Xiang) 14%
Zingiberis Rhizoma Recens (Ginger, fresh/ Sheng Jiang) 10%
Poria (Poria, Hoelen, Tuckahoe/ Fu Ling) 8%
Arecae Pericarpium (Betel Nut Palm Peel/ Da Fu Pi) 8%
Atractylodis Macrocephalae Rhizoma (White Atractylodes Rhizome/ Bai Zhu) 8%
Platycodi Radix (Platycodon Root/ Jie Geng) 8%
Magnoliae Officinalis Cortex (Magnolia Bark, Ginger-fried/ Jiang Chao Hou Po) 8%
Citri Reticulatae Pericarpium (Tangerine Peel/ Chen Pi) 8%
Pinelliae Rhizoma Preparatum (Pinellia, ginger-cured/ Zhi Ban Xia) 8%
Perillae Folium (Perilla Leaf/ Zi Su Ye) 6%
Angelicae Dahuricae Radix (Purple Angelica/ Bai Zhi) 6%
Jujubae Fructus (Jujube Date, red/ Hong Zao, Da Zao) 4%
Glycyrrhizae Radix Preparata (Chinese Licorice Root, honey-fried/ Zhi Gan Cao) 4%

Chinese Medical Actions

Transforms damp, expels cold, resolves the exterior, rectifies rebellious qi, harmonizes the middle burner.

Tongue: White and greasy.
Pulse: Slippery.

Contraindications: Do not use if the pattern is wind-heat or internal fire.

Note: For severe nausea and/or vomiting, take tiny sips under the tongue every 20 minutes, until enough has been absorbed to allow for larger doses.
AMBER STONE-TRANSFORMING FORMULA

Amber Stone-Transforming Formula (Hu Po Hua Shi Pian) was created by Jake Paul Fratkin, OMD, based on current research in China regarding the dissolution of kidney and bladder stones. The synergistic combination of desmodium (guang jin qian cao) and lygodium (hai jin sha) dissolves the stone. In acute blockage, it can actually dissolve the stone enough to allow passage, especially when combined with acupuncture. Besides intervention during acute attacks, the formula can be given as a preventative for patients with a history of kidney stones.

Ingredients
- Desmodium Styracifolium Herba (Desmodium / Guang Jin Qian Cao) 15%

Chinese Medical Actions
Dissolves and expels stones, dispels damp-heat, moves qi, clears heat and resolves toxin, invigorates blood, stops bleeding, relieves pain.

Indications

| Bladder stones, acute or chronic | Pain and pressure in lower back and abdomen from stones |
| Blood in urine from kidney or bladder stones | Urinary tract infection |
| Kidney stones, acute or chronic | Urination, pain with |

Tongue: Red and scalloped, red on the edge or tip, yellow or white coating.

Pulse: Big, rapid, rolling.

Contraindications: DO NOT USE DURING PREGNANCY.

Dosage: In acute obstruction: Take 3 tablets every 2 hours until pain is gone. If pain has not significantly decreased in 12 hours, patient should consult health practitioner. For prevention: take 3 tablets, 2 times a day for a 3-4 day course, once monthly.

Note: This formula is most effective when combined with acupuncture.
Andrographis Formula

Chuan Xin Lian Kang Yan Pian is used to clear acute heat-toxin in the blood, lymph, or at the organ level. The chief herb, andrographis (chuan xin lian), is noted for its strong anti-viral, anti-bacterial, anti-pyretic, and anti-inflammatory actions. Isatis (ban lan gen) clears heat-toxin, cools the blood, and benefits the throat. It has anti-bacterial and anti-viral actions. Dandelion (pu gong ying) clears both interior and exterior heat, resolves toxin, eliminates damp-heat, and has anti-bacterial actions. With its broad therapeutic scope, Andrographis Formula can be used to clear heat-toxin anywhere in the body. It is especially effective for treating viruses affecting the throat, lymph, or liver.

Ingredients

- Andrographis Herba (Andrographis / Chuan Xin Lian) 50%
- Isatidis seu Baphicacanthis Radix (Isatis Root / Ban Lan Gen) 25%
- Taraxaci Herba (Dandelion / Pu Gong Ying) 25%

Chinese Medical Actions

Clears heat, resolves toxin, cools blood, disperses swelling, reduces inflammation in the three burners.

Tongue: Red or red spots.  Pulse: Rapid.

Contraindications: The herbs used in this formula are cold in nature. Prolonged use may injure stomach fire and lead to digestive hypofunction or epigastric discomfort.
AN MIEŃ FORMULA

An Mien Formula (An Mien Pian) is one of the most popular Chinese herbal formulas for treating insomnia, disturbed shen (spirit), and palpitations. Most of the ingredients in this formula possess a sedative action. The first three ingredients are among the most frequently used substances for treating anxiety, insomnia, and the feeling of emotional fragility. Part of the genius of this formulation is the recognition of the roles digestion and phlegm play in insomnia and anxiety. The stomach channel’s role in insomnia and anxiety is not only about abdominal discomfort and agitation, but about a disruption in our ability to properly transform the exterior (food/experience) into nourishment/blood. (Note that the acupuncture points Taiyi (St-23) and Huaroumen (St-24) are traditionally indicated for calming shen as well as treating abdominal discomfort.) The formula as a whole can be prescribed “as needed”, but is safe and balanced for long-term use.

Tongue: Could be pale or small and red, possibly with thick coating.

Pulse: Two categories apply. If deficiency is primary, the pulse may be weak, feeble, or thin and rapid; if phlegm or stagnation is primary, then it may be slippery.

Contraindications: Do not use if pattern is excess heat. Do not use during acute illness.
Astragalus Formula (Huang Qi Jian Zhong Tang) is also known as “Astragalus Decoction to Construct the Middle” because it builds the qi of the spleen and stomach or “middle qi.” It is a major pediatric tonic for children with delicate constitutions or who have chronic ear infections. Its mild action and sweet flavor make it an excellent formula for “reconstructing the middle” after surgery or to restore digestive function damaged by chemotherapy.

Astragalus & Ligustrum Formula (Huang Qi Dong Qing Pian) evolved from fu zheng therapy research done in modern China. “Fu zheng” means “support the normal or righteous” qi, which helps protect the body from adverse influences. Fu zheng therapy originally used tonic or adaptogenic herbs to protect the immune systems of cancer patients from the toxic effects of radiation or chemotherapy. Currently, this therapy is used in the treatment of patients who are HIV+ or have AIDS Related Complex (ARC), AIDS, Chronic Epstein-Barr Virus (CEBV), and patients with other immune deficiency syndromes. The focus of Astragalus & Ligustrum Formula is on supplementing the “upright” or “righteous” qi by supporting the spleen and kidney. In addition to the tonic herbs, this formula has poria (fu ling) to drain dampness, and tangerine peel (chen pi) to move the qi. Chen pi also helps prevent the bloating and stagnation that can develop when taking tonic herbs.

Contraindications: During pregnancy, consult a health practitioner before taking. This formula can be combined with an appropriate anti-toxin formula, like Viola Clear Fire Formula, in cases with microbial activity or heat-toxin. It can also be combined with other tonic formulas to build qi, blood, and yin.
BAKED LICORICE FORMULA

_Baked Licorice Formula_ (Zhi Gan Cao Tang) is a qi and blood tonic from the _Shang Han Lun_ that Zhang Zhong-jing used as a principle formula for treating irregularities of the pulse. The typical presentation is one with a history of an external pathogen that has depleted the body of both qi and blood, and most obvious in signs and symptoms related to the heart: irregular pulse, palpitations, and generalized weakness. Today it is a primary formula for treating many types of coronary and cardiac disorders. _Baked Licorice Formula_ is a versatile formula, but is usually considered the most important formula when one of two types of irregular pulses is present: knotted (jié mài) or intermittent (dài mài). The knotted pulse is a slow to moderate rate with an occasional dropped beat at irregular intervals. The intermittent pulse is usually moderate in rate but misses beats at regular intervals. The consumptive disorders that are effectively treated by _Baked Licorice Formula_ are lung atrophy (characterized by a chronic weak pulse in the right cun position with generalized weakness and shortness of breath) and heart qi and blood deficiency.

Bone & Sinew Formula (Zheng Gu Xu Jin Fang) is a combination of Duhuo and Loranthus Formula (Du Huo Ji Sheng Tang) and Course & Quicken Formula (Shu Jing Huo Xue Tang) with herbs added to supplement the kidneys and knit bones and sinews. It is intended to treat the second and third stages of trauma where initial swelling and inflammation have dissipated and what remains is blood stasis and invasion of wind and dampness. The herbs in this formula center on moving and supplementing blood to dispel blood stasis, supplementing the kidneys to heal bones and sinews, and dispelling wind and dampness to drive out bi and prevent its return. It is ideal for speeding the healing of torn ligaments or tendons, broken bones, or damaged cartilage.

Contraindications: DO NOT USE DURING PREGNANCY.

Note: If used for an extended period, it is best to combine this formula with one that addresses the patient’s constitutional imbalance. For example, if yin deficiency is prominent, combine Bone & Sinew Formula with Rehmannia Six Formula, or if liver qi stagnation is an underlying issue, combine with Bupleurum & Tang Kuei Formula or Free & Easy Wanderer Plus.
Bupleurum & Cinnamon Formula (Chai Hu Gui Zhi Tang) is a traditional formula from the Shang Han Lun, and is a combination of Cinnamon Twig Formula (Gui Zhi Tang) and Minor Bupleurum Formula (Xiao Chai Hu Tang). This formula treats simultaneous taiyang and shaoyang disorders. It is used to harmonize the interior and exterior, and in shaoyang disorders, when the exterior has not been completely released. It is commonly used for digestive disorders resulting from disharmony of liver and spleen. This formula can be used for psychological boundary issues seen in socially uncomfortable patients who have hostile outbursts or are passive-aggressive. It is also good for joint pain triggered by an acute or recent virus, distending pain around the xyphoid, and intercostal neuralgia.

Ingredients

- Bupleuri Radix (Bupleurum Root / Chai Hu) 23.6%
- Codonopsis Radix (Codonopsis / Dang Shen) 17.6%
- Pinelliae Rhizoma Preparatum (Pinellia, ginger-cured / Zhi Ban Xia) 11.8%

- Jujubae Fructus (Jujube Date, red / Hong Zao, Da Zao) 5.9%
- Glycyrrhizae Radix (Chinese Licorice Root / Gan Cao) 5.9%

Chinese Medical Actions

Releases muscle layer, expels wind, releases shaoyang-stage disorders, harmonizes interior and exterior, harmonizes nutritive (ying) and protective (wei) qi.

Indications

- Abdominal distension
- Chills
- Common cold w/ chest constriction
- Constitution, delicate
- Emotional instability

Tongue: Pale, swollen, with white or yellow coating.

Pulse: Wiry (liver position), weak (in spleen position). May be slippery or floating.

Note: Reduce dosage for psychological use by ¼.
Bupleurum & Tang Kuei Formula (Xiao Yao Wan), also known as “Free and Easy Wanderer” or “Rambling Powder,” is an important classical prescription for regulating and harmonizing the energy of the liver and spleen. It is useful for a diverse range of symptoms resulting from liver qi stagnation, deficient liver blood, and liver/spleen disharmony. It is an excellent formula for menstrual and premenstrual disorders when strong signs of heat are not present.

Contraindications: When heat signs are present, use Free & Easy Wanderer Plus instead. Reduce dose if irritability or digestive disturbance increase while taking this formula.
Bupleurum D Formula (Chai Hu Jia Long Gu Mu Li Tang), also known as “Bupleurum Plus Dragon Bone and Oyster Shell Formula,” is a classical Chinese formula used to clear heat and as a sedative. From the Shang Han Lun, this formula is a modification of Minor Bupleurum Formula (Xiao Chai Hu Tang) for improperly treated wind-cold disorders. Over centuries of use, this formula has been expanded to treat a variety of internal and emotional patterns, especially those whose symptoms are marked by fullness in the chest, irritability, and palpitations. Altai anemone (jiu jie chang pu) has been added to aid in transformation of phlegm. This formula is useful for drug and smoking withdrawal, vivid dreaming, and any pattern of excess qi or yang.

Capillaris Formula (Yin Chen Hao Fang) was created by Jake Paul Fratkin, OMD, based on current research in China regarding the treatment of middle-stage Hepatitis C. In this stage, patients exhibit elevated liver enzymes on blood tests and may have the associated symptoms of fatigue, headache, fibromyalgia, and darkening spots on the skin. The formula helps to promote natural immunity, inhibit viral growth, reduce symptoms of fatigue and poor appetite, and is effective for lowering liver enzymes back into the normal range.

This formula was formerly called Liver C Formula
CHAI HU SHU GAN FORMULA

Chai Hu Shu Gan Formula (Chai Hu Shu Gan Tang) is a primary formula for treating liver qi stagnation patterns. Originally formulated for costal fullness and flank pain, as these are common signs for when the liver qi is stuck in the chest/thorax, it has also become famous for its ability to unbind stuck liver qi that is invading the spleen or lower burner. Where flank pain or costal fullness is usually part of the pattern of liver qi stuck in the upper burner, abdominal distension is the chief sign of the “liver invading the spleen” pattern. Lower burner signs include back pain, and dysmenorrhea. Because this formula so effectively frees the liver qi and harmonizes blood circulation, it is now often used to treat such varying conditions as PMS, breast tenderness, costal pain from shingles, gallstones, cold hands and feet, and depression. Common signs of qi stagnation treated by this formula include symptoms that come and go, symptoms made worse with intensified emotional states, and pain that is relieved by activity and worse at night.

Chase Wind, Penetrate Bone Formula (Zhui Feng Tou Gu Wan) is a combination of herbs that dispel wind, cold, and dampness; herbs that move the blood; and herbs that strengthen qi, blood, yin, and yang. It can be used for various types of acute and chronic joint pain, stiffness, and swelling, but is especially effective for treating wind bi or bi syndrome that affects joint in both upper and lower extremities.

Contraindications: DO NOT USE DURING PREGNANCY. Use with caution with excess heat, as this formula is warming. If heat is present (joints swollen or hot to the touch), combine with Curcuma Longa Formula. Modify to smaller dosages in cases of digestive weakness. In cases of severe deficiency, this formula can be combined with a supplementing formula, such as Restorative Formula.
Children's Clear & Release Formula (Yin Qiao Gan Mao Fang) combines herbs from two of the most popular formulas for treating early-stage common cold, Yin Qiao San and Gan Mao Ling. The combination of these two formulas plus the addition of pueraria (ge gen), mulberry leaf (sang ye), and scrophularia (xuan shen) expands the application to help (respectively) release wind, dredge the lymph glands, and cool and protect the lungs. Broad in its application, Children's Clear & Release Formula can treat patterns marked by runny nose or nasal congestion, fever, headache, mild to moderate sore throat, or a slight, unproductive cough. It is most effectively used during the early stages of an external invasion.

Tongue: Red on tip, or whole tongue red. Pulse: Rapid, full, floating.

Contraindications: Avoid taking tonic formulas concurrently with this formula, as they can trap exogenous pathogens in the body. Use when heat signs or common cold symptoms are evident. Not appropriate as a preventative; use Children's Jade Defense Formula instead. If the cold turns into an interior heat-type cough pattern, combine with Children's Clear Lung Formula.

Dosage: Golden Flower's Children's Formulas are made as flavored syrups.
without alcohol extraction. They do not require pre-mixing. For infants, give 1-2 ml/cc. For children age 1-2, give 2-3 ml/cc. For age 3-5, give 4-6 ml (1 ml/cc for each year of age + 1 ml). For children above 5, give 6 ml, or one teaspoon. Frequency: For acute conditions, administer every 2-3 hours; and 3 times per day during the subacute phase.

Note: The best results are obtained in the treatment of external patterns when the formula can be administered during the initial stage of onset. Usually children cannot accurately report all of their symptoms; it is prudent and convenient to have a formula that parents can keep in the medicine cabinet to address a wide range of symptoms associated with early-stage wind-heat or qi-level heat patterns.
CHILDREN’S CLEAR LUNG FORMULA

Children’s Clear Lung Formula (Xiao Er Zi Qing Fei Fang). This formula addresses acute cough presentations from lung fire or phlegm-heat patterns. It is especially appropriate for children, whose coughs tend to progress rapidly from throat tickle to lung fire. In early-stage cough, pathogenic heat quickly causes the body to respond with phlegm in order to protect the lung tissue, after which, the phlegm can become difficult to expel. This formula clears lung heat with belamcanda (she gan), scutellaria (huang qin) and white mulberry root bark (sang bai pi). Herbs that transform phlegm and stop cough include fritillaria (zhe bei mu), pinellia (zhi ban sha), platycodon (jie geng), and peucedanum (qian hu). Herbs that stop cough and direct qi downward include armeniaca (xing ren), perilla seed (zi su zi), and cynanchum (bai qian). This is a balanced formula that helps to protect the lungs while correcting the flow of lung qi, draining heat, and resolving phlegm.

Tongue: Red tip; possibly a yellow coat. Pulse: Rapid, full.

Cautions: Cold and phlegm-resolving substances may cause loose stools as a mechanism for discharging phlegm. This is a normal response, but if diarrhea develops, discontinue or lower the dose.

Note: When accompanied by productive phlegm, or to help relieve harshness, combine with Fritillaria & Pinellia Syrup.

CHILDREN’S EAR FORMULA

Children's Ear Formula (Hai Er Fang) is a modern formula developed by Jake Paul Fratkin, OMD, to treat ear infections in infants and young children (to 6 years old). Children's Ear Formula has proven itself over many years, with many practitioners. Given orally, it will usually stop the pain of otitis media (middle ear infection) and otitis externa (outer ear infection) within two hours. It is intended for painful ear infection, but is also appropriate for inflamed or bulging eardrum without pain.

Ingredients

- Agastaches Herba (Chinese Giant Hyssop, Agastache / Huo Xiang) 10%
- Poria (Poria, Hoelen, Tuckahoe / Fu Ling) 10%
- Chrysanthemi Flos (Chrysanthemum / Ju Hua) 8%
- Coptidis Rhizoma (Coptis / Huang Lian) 8%
- Forsythiae Fructus (Forsythia / Lian Qiao) 8%
- Paoniae Radix, rubra (Chinese Peony, red / Chi Shao) 8%
- Peucedani Radix (Peucedanum, Hog Fennel / Qian Hu) 8%
- Angelicae Dahuricae Radix (Purple Angelica / Bai Zhi) 7%
- Bupleuri Radix (Bupleurum Root / Chai Hu) 7%
- Fritillariae Thunbergii Bulbus (Sichuan Fritillary / Zhe Bei Mu) 7%
- Pinelliae Rhizoma Preparatum (Pinellia, ginger-cured / Zhi Ban Xia) 7%
- Viticis Fructus (Simple-Leaf Chaste Tree Fruit, Vitex Fruit / Man Jing Zi) 7%
- Zingiberis Rhizoma Recens (Ginger, fresh / Sheng Jiang) 5%

Chinese Medical Actions

Clears heat, resolves toxin, drains dampness, relieves pain.

Indications

| Ear infection with pain in infants and young children | Ears, congested |
| Eardrum, inflamed or bulging, without pain | Fever, in children prone to ear infections |
| | Headache, with phlegm-heat |

Note: This formula is to be taken orally, not put in the ear. This formula is an alternative to antibiotics, which can increase the chance of a recurrence of the ear infection within six weeks. If ear infection is not responsive in 24 hours, reevaluate the condition and strategy. Other appropriate formulas may include, Gentiana Drain Fire Formula (for damp-heat in the gallbladder channel), or Neck Formula (if ears remain plugged after all other symptoms have resolved). Children's Ear Formula addresses the branch—the acute symptoms. When pain eases, the root problem should be treated as well.
Children's Jade Defense Formula (Xiao Er Zi Yu Fang) is a modification of Jade Windscreen Formula (Yu Ping Feng San). Its main uses are to prevent invasion from the exterior and stop spontaneous sweating. It can be helpful to repair and strengthen intestinal epithelium for those who suffer from food allergies. Atractylodes (bai zhu) strengthens spleen qi and resolves the dampness that can impede efficient functioning of the spleen, while astragalus (huang qi) reinforces the wei qi and helps to radiate it outward to support the exterior. Siler (fang feng) is gentle on the body yet strongly expels wind. Chrysanthemum (ju hua) cools the lungs and liver and is included to compensate for the tendency of exterior invasions in children to turn to heat, and also to compensate for the warming nature of the tonic.

Ingredients
Astragali Radix (Astragalus / Huang Qi) 35%
Saposhnikoviae Radix (Siler / Fang Feng) 25%
Atractylodis Macrocephalae Rhizoma (White Atractylodes Rhizome / Bai Zhu) 20%
Chrysanthemi Flos (Chrysanthemum / Ju Hua) 20%

Chinese Medical Actions
Supplements wei qi, secures the exterior, stops sweating, clears eyes.

CHONG RELEASE FORMULA

Chong Release Formula (Jia Wei Tao Hong Si Wu Tang) is a modification of the classic formula for nourishing and moving blood, Tao Hong Si Wu Tang. It is especially effective in treating menstrual blood stasis. This formula opens the collaterals to eliminate blood stasis and facilitates the complete discharge of the endometrial lining, so that the new endometrial lining can grow on a smooth, clean base.

Note: When treating infertility, use this formula from day one of menstruation until flow has ceased.
CINNAMON & PORIA FORMULA

Cinnamon & Poria Formula is a modification of Gui Zhi Fu Ling Wan with red peony (chi shao), salvia (dan shen), sparganii (san leng) and rhubarb (da huang) added to reinforce the actions of the original formula. This formula is used for blood stasis in the lower abdomen, fixed abdominal masses with abdominal pain, tenderness, and tension. Cinnamon & Poria Formula can also be used by men for prostate problems.

CINNAMON D FORMULA

Cinnamon D Formula (Gui Zhi Jia Long Gu Mu Li Tang) also known as “Cinnamon plus Dragon Bone and Oyster Shell Formula” is a classical Chinese formula that addresses disharmony of yin and yang, and lack of communication between the heart and kidneys. It is used for physical symptoms arising from chronic constraint, overwork, or sexual excess, as well as for a number of psychological symptoms, including sexual dysfunction or boundary issues.

Ingredients
Cinnamomi Ramulus (Cassia Twig, Chinese Cinnamon / Gui Zhi) 15%
Paeoniae Radix, alba (Chinese Peony, white / Bai Shao) 15%
Zingiberis Rhizoma (Ginger, dried / Gan Jiang) 15%

Note: Ted Kaptchuk, OMD, states that this formula is useful for sexual abuse survivors, as well as patients who have difficulty with intimacy, commitment, and sex addiction. Reduce dosage for psychological use by ¼.
CINNAMON TWIG FORMULA

Cinnamon Twig Formula (Gui Zhi Tang). This is one of the most commonly modified formulas from the Shang Han Lun. Cinnamon Twig Formula is best used in cases where the protective (wei) qi cannot protect the exterior, and the nutritive (ying) qi cannot nourish and stabilize the interior. A common presentation is sweating with invasion from wind-cold, where the sweating does not lead to improvement of the condition and renders the patient more sensitive to the environment. In these cases it is inappropriate to use formulas with ephedra (ma huang) or other strongly diaphoretic, warm herbs, or formulas with cold and bitter herbs. In small doses, this formula can also be used to address psychological boundary issues seen in easily overwhelmed patients who have difficulty holding qi or nourishment. These patients usually have chronic deficiency patterns and progress very slowly. Cinnamon Twig Formula gives them some energetic containment, and helps them make effective therapeutic progress.

Ingredients
Cinnamomi Ramulus (Cassia Twig, Chinese Cinnamon / Gui Zhi) 21.4%
Paeoniae Radix, alba (Chinese Peony, white / Bai Shao) 21.4%
Zingiberis Rhizoma Recens (Ginger, fresh / Sheng Jiang) 21.4%

Citrus & Pinellia Formula (Er Chen Tang). This classical formula is the basis for nearly any formula that is used when phlegm-damp is the underlying pattern. It is used when phlegm-damp from the spleen blocks the flow of qi and interferes with the normal functions of the spleen and stomach. It can be used for clear or white, sticky phlegm in the lungs, as well as many problems of the stomach and spleen caused by phlegm-damp. Its primary action is to rectify the qi so that the qi can transform fluids properly.

Ingredients
Pinelliae Rhizoma Preparatum (Pinellia, ginger-cured / Zhi Ban Xia) 35%
Citri Reticulatae Pericarpium (Tangerine Peel / Chen Pi) 35%
Poria (Poria, Hoelen, Tuckahoe / Fu Ling) 20%

Coptis Relieve Toxicity Formula (Huang Lian Jie Du Pian) is based on a classical Chinese formula known as “Coptis and Scute” used to clear heat from the three burners. It is used for symptoms resulting from liver heat, heat in the blood, and heat in the heart. Rhubarb (da huang) and lophatherum (dan zhu ye) have been added to aid in the formula’s ability to drain damp-heat.

Ingredients

- Gardeniae Fructus (Gardenia Fruit / Zhi Zi) 26.7%
- Coptidis Rhizoma (Coptis / Huang Lian) 20%
- Lophatheri Herba (Lophatherum / Dan Zhu Ye) 20%
- Scutellariae Radix (Chinese Skullcap, Scute / Huang Qin) 13.3%
- Phellodendri Cortex (Phellodendron Bark / Huang Bai) 13.3%
- Rhei Radix et Rhizoma (Chinese Rhubarb / Da Huang) 6.7%

Chinese Medical Actions

Drains damp-heat and fire, relieves heat-toxin, cools liver heat, cools blood.

Contraindications: DO NOT USE DURING PREGNANCY OR WHILE NURSING. Not intended for long-term use, as this formula can injure the yin. Reduce dose if diarrhea occurs.
Corydalis Formula (Shao Yao Gan Cao Jia Yan Hu Tang) is a combination of the classical Peony and Licorice Formula (Shao Yao Gan Cao Tang) with corydalis (yan hu suo). Peony and Licorice Formula is traditionally used for pain, cramping, or muscle spasms caused by injury to the liver blood or yin. Corydalis (yan hu suo) is used for pain from stagnation of qi or blood. These herbs together make this a suitable formula for many types of pain, muscle spasms, and cramps.

Ingredients
Corydalis Rhizoma (Corydalis Yanhusuo / Yan Hu Suo) 33.4%
Paeoniae Radix, alba (Chinese Peony, white / Bai Shao) 33.3%
Glycyrrhizae Radix (Chinese Licorice Root / Gan Cao) 33.3%

Chinese Medical Actions

Dispels wind-dampness, moves blood stasis, moves qi, unblocks and relaxes the channels.

Indications

| Back pain, lower | Movement difficulty |
| Edema | Muscle aches |
| Gout | Numbness, lower extremities |
| Hypertension | Pain, in trunk |
| Joint pain | Postpartum pain |
| Leg pain, radiating | Sciatica |

Tongue: Swollen. Pulse: Strong, choppy, superficial.

Contraindications: DO NOT USE DURING PREGNANCY. This formula is for pain with excess; for pain from deficiency, use Duhuo & Loranthus Formula.

This formula was formerly called Clematis & Stephania Formula
Curcuma Longa Formula (Jiang Huang Wan) is designed to manage pain, reduce swelling, and alleviate allergic reactions by reducing inflammation. Systemic inflammation has been found to be a factor in such diverse health disorders as arthritis, atherosclerosis, Alzheimer’s disease, cancer, allergies, and autoimmune disorders. The herbs in Curcuma Longa Formula have been shown to exhibit anti-inflammatory, analgesic, antioxidant, hepatoprotective, and immunomodulatory effects. This formula supports the liver and blood vessels, and promotes circulation of blood and qi.

Tongue: Slightly dusky or deep red, possibly with papilla.

Pulse: Choppy, thin, or wiry.

Dosage: This formula can be taken in larger doses if necessary (4 tablets, 3 times per day). If prescribing larger doses, or for an extended period of time (longer than 120 days), an assisting formula to prevent possible depletion of qi or yin may be needed. Some recommended protective formulas include: Astragalus & Ligustrum Formula, Ji Xue Formula, Jing Qi Formula, or Sheng Mai Formula. One tablet per dose of the assisting formula provides sufficient support in most cases.

Contraindications: DO NOT USE DURING PREGNANCY. Use caution in patients with spleen qi or blood deficiency, or combine with an appropriate tonic formula such as Ginseng & Longan Formula. Use caution with patients taking anticoagulant/antiplatelet drugs or antidiabetic drugs.
DUHUO & LORANTHUS FORMULA

Duhuo & Loranthus Formula (Du Huo Ji Sheng Tang) is a classical formula for painful obstruction in the lower body with deficiency of the liver and kidney. As described in Chapter 43 of Basic Questions: “Painful obstruction in the bones causes heaviness; in the blood vessels causes coagulations and loss of flow; in the sinews causes contractions with an inability to extend the joints, and in the muscles causes numbness.” This manifests in symptoms such as arthritis, and heavy and painful sensations in the lower back and legs with weakness and stiffness. This formula is based on the strategy of both supporting normal qi and removing obstruction. Safflower (hong hua) was added to augment the pain-relieving properties of the formula.

Chinese Medical Actions
Expels wind-dampness, disperses painful obstruction, supplements deficient qi, kidney yang, and liver blood.

Indications
| Arthritis | Joint stiffness |
| Atrophy, in lower limbs | Knee or leg pain or weakness |
| Bi syndrome | Pain in lower body |
| Back pain, lower, chronic | Poliomyelitis, sequella of |
| Bone weakness or degeneration | Shortness of breath |
| Coldness, in back and knees | Walking difficulty |
| Eczema, in children |

Tongue: May be pale, with white coating. Pulse: Weak, slow, and thin.

Contraindications: USE WITH CAUTION DURING PREGNANCY.
Earth Harmonizing Formula (He Tu Pian) is designed to treat chronic or recurring disorders of the digestive tract caused by a disharmony between earth and wood. Liver qi invading the spleen or stomach can give rise to a variety of symptoms including acid reflux, bloating, abdominal distension, epigastric pain, belching, nausea, lack of appetite, foul taste in the mouth, and constipation or diarrhea. This formula addresses both liver qi constraint and deficiency of the spleen and stomach simultaneously. Bupleurum (chai hu), white peony (bai shao), barley sprout (mai ya) and curcuma (yu jin) soothe the liver and relax liver qi constraint. The four herbs, codonopsis (dang shen), white atractylodes (bai zhu), poria (fu ling) and licorice (gan cao)—known together as the “Four Gentlemen Decoction” (Si Jun Zi Tang)—supplement the central burner and harmonize the stomach. Hawthorn (shan zha) and barley sprout (mai ya) disperse food stagnation and accumulation. Further, since stagnation in the digestive tract can give rise to heat, this formula includes a small amount of coptis (huang lian) to clear stomach heat and solomon’s seal (yu zhu) to nourish stomach yin.

Ease Digestion Formula (Jia Wei Kang Ning Wan), is a modification of the popular “Pill Curing” or “Healthy Quiet Pills.” It is useful in the treatment of "stomach flu" (gastroenteritis), hangover, sudden turmoil disorder (concurrent vomiting and diarrhea), and a variety of other digestive complaints. The modifications in this version give it stronger action against mild food poisoning. The glutinous substances have been removed from the original formula so that it is a safe option for patients with gluten intolerance or celiac disease. Ease Digestion Formula is an excellent choice to bring along while traveling or to keep at home in the medicine cabinet.

Eight Immortals Formula (Ba Xian Chang Shou Wan) is a modification of Rehmannia Six Formula (Liu Wei Di Huang Wan). It can be used to treat many kinds of conditions resulting from deficient yin of the lungs, kidneys, and stomach. Primary pattern includes dry, weak cough, chronic shortness of breath, asthma or wheezing, deficiency sexual dysfunction, or diabetes. The traditional formula has been augmented with dendrobium (shi hu), solomon’s seal (yu zhu), and glehnia (sha shen) to strengthen the cooling and moistening effects of the formula. Use for chronic yin deficiency causing tidal fever, night sweats, ringing in the ears, cough, palpitations, and dizziness.

Eleuthero Tablets (Wu Jia Shen Pian) contain the single ingredient eleuthero root (wu jia shen). Modern clinical research has indicated eleuthero to be anti-inflammatory and analgesic, and to inhibit arthritis. In addition, eleuthero contains potent adaptogens, which enable the body to fight fatigue, increase resistance to disease, counter the effects of stress, and restore the organism to balance. It is considered an immune system enhancer and cardiovascular tonic. Eleuthero protects against altitude sickness and helps counter the side effects of radiation and chemotherapy.

Essential Yang Formula (Jia Jian Jin Gui Shen Qi Wan) is a modification of the classical Rehmannia Eight Formula or Golden Cabinet Kidney Qi Pill (Jin Gui Shen Qi Wan) used to supplement kidney yang. The yang of the kidney is the root of yang for the entire body. Yang energy allows us the ability to be active, vital, and assertive, and is responsible for function, warmth, and movement. From the traditional formula, aconite has been replaced with the yang tonics morinda (ba ji tian), epimedium (yin yang huo), and psoralea (bu gu zhi) to add warmth and to strengthen the kidneys. Lycium fruit (gou qi zi) has also been added to nourish the yin and supplement the blood.

FIVE MUSHROOM FORMULA

Five Mushroom Formula (Wu Gu Fang). Mushrooms have been used for their healing properties in Asia for thousands of years. In recent years, Japan and China have conducted extensive research on the medicinal properties of mushrooms. Scientists are particularly focused on the polysaccharides (high-molecular-weight complex sugars), more specifically the beta-glucans and their immune-enhancing qualities. For this formula, five mushrooms were chosen that contain high levels of beta-glucans, and because of two specific properties that are common to each of them. All five of these mushrooms provide hepatic support in cases of hepatitis (chronic or acute), as well as supporting the immune system by helping the body to produce more NK (Natural Killer) cells, which play a major role in the rejection of tumors. In addition to the above mentioned properties, these mushrooms have other beneficial functions:

Agaricus subrufescens (ji song rong): eases and promotes digestion, fortifies bones, regulates blood pressure and blood glucose levels.

Trametes versicolor (yun zhi): treats infection and/or inflammation of the upper respiratory, urinary, and digestive tracts, clears dampness, reduces phlegm.

Ganoderma lucidum (ling zhi / reishi): calms the spirit, nourishes qi and blood, stops cough, alleviates wheezing, dispels phlegm, helps to regulate blood glucose levels; antibacterial, anti-inflammatory, anti-hypertensive.

Grifola frondosa (hui shu hua / maitake): anti-viral and antibacterial, supports the immune system specifically by preventing helper T-cells from being destroyed, promotes weight loss, regulates blood glucose levels, reduces hyperlipidemia, aids in the treatment of hypertension.

Cordyceps sinensis (dong chong xia cao): supports the kidneys and jing, supplements yang, augments lung yin, transforms phlegm, stops bleeding, regulates blood glucose levels.

Ingredients

Agaricus subrufescens (45% polysaccharide concentrate from fruiting body

Himematsutake Mushroom / Ji Song Rong) 22%

Trametes versicolor (30% polysaccharide concentrate from fruiting body

Coriolus, Turkey Tail / Yun Zhi) 22%

Four Marvel Formula (Si Miao San) is based on Zhu Dan-Xi’s classic damp-heat resolving formula, Two Marvel Formula (Er Miao San). The original formula contains two herbs: phellodendron bark (huang bai), which drains damp-heat in the lower burner and atractylodes (cang zhu), which dries dampness and revitalizes the spleen. Two additional herbs are included: cyathula (chuan niu xi), which leads the formula downward to the legs, and coix (yi yi ren), which supports the damp-dispelling function of the formula. This formula is used to treat a variety of damp-heat issues affecting the lower body, such as weeping leg ulcers, atrophy, gout, and urogenital damp-heat.

Ingredients
Phellodendri Cortex (Phellodendron Bark / Huang Bai) 33%
Coicis Semen (Job’s Tears Seed, Chinese Pearl Barley, Coix / Yi Yi Ren) 33%
Atractylodis Rhizoma (Cang-Zhu Atractylodes Rhizome / Cang Zhu) 17%
Cyathulae Radix (Cyathula Root / Chuan Niu Xi) 17%

Contraindications: Not to be used alone in cases of lung heat or with liver and kidney deficiency.

Note: With qi deficiency, combine with Six Gentlemen Formula; with blood deficiency, combine with Tang Kuei & Salvia Formula. If there is concurrent qi and blood deficiency, use with Women’s Precious Formula.

In cases of liver and kidney deficiency, use Astragalus & Ligustrum Formula, Rehmannia Six Formula, or Nourish Essence Formula instead. In cases of lung heat use Mulberry & Lycium Formula.
FREE & EASY WANDERER PLUS

Free & Easy Wanderer Plus (Jia Wei Xiao Yao San) is a modification of Bupleurum and Peony Formula or Augmented Free and Easy Wanderer, used for easing liver constraint and encouraging the free-flow of liver qi. The blood-moving component to this formula has been augmented with motherwort (yi mu cao), red peony (chi shao), and curcuma (yu jin). Curcuma also clears the heart and is useful for such emotional symptoms as anxiety and agitation. These herbs have made the formula especially useful for premenstrual syndrome with blood stasis, and painful menstruation with concomitant emotional symptoms, in addition to its other uses.

Ingredients

- Bupleuri Radix (Bupleurum Root / Chai Hu) 12.5%
- Angelicae Sinensis Radix (Dong Quai Root, Tang Kuei / Dang Gui) 12.5%
- Paeoniae Radix, alba (Chinese Peony, white / Bai Shao) 12.5%
- Atractylodis Macrocephalae Rhizoma (White Atractylodes Rhizome / Bai Zhu) 12.5%
- Poria (Poria, Hoelen, Tuckahoe / Fu Ling) 12.5%
- Glycyrrhizae Radix Preparata (Chinese Licorice Root, honey-fried / Zhi Gan Cao) 6.25%
- Paeoniae Radix, rubra (Chinese Peony, red / Chi Shao) 6.25%
- Moutan Cortex (Tree Peony / Mu Dan Pi) 6.25%
- Gardeniae Fructus (Gardenia Fruit / Zhi Zi) 6.25%
- Curcumae Radix (Turmeric, Curcuma Tuber / Yu Jin) 6.25%
- Leonuri Herba (Chinese Motherwort / Yi Mu Cao) 6.25%

Chinese Medical Actions

Cleans heat, cools blood, relaxes constrained liver qi, nourishes and circulates blood and disperses blood stasis, strengthens spleen and transforms phlegm, harmonizes the liver and spleen.

Fritillaria & Pinellia Formula (Chuan Bei Ban Xia Tang) is a modification of the prepared formula Qing Qi Hua Tan Tang, for cough caused by phlegm-heat in the lungs. The arisaema and trichosanthes were omitted, and fritillaria (zhe bei mu), momordica (luo han guo), houttuynia (yu xing cao), and bamboo secretions (tian zhu huang) were added—making this formula ideal for treating hot phlegm (with yellow, green, or thick, sticky sputum) conditions such as bronchitis or pneumonia. This formula is also safe and effective for the hot phlegm conditions of children. It is available in both liquid and tablet form.

- Viticis Fructus (Simple-Leaf Chaste Tree, Vitex Fruit / Man Jing Zi) 12%
- Lonicerae Flos (Japanese Honeysuckle Flower / Jin Yin Hua) 10%

Chinese Medical Actions

Clears heat, dispels wind-heat, resolves toxin, soothes throat to stop cough, opens nasal passages.

Indications

| Common cold | Measles, early stage |
| Ear infection | Neck and shoulders, stiff from acute wind invasion |
| Eyes, red | Sinus congestion or discharge |
| Fever | Sinus infection |
| Headache | Throat sore |
| Influenza | Tonsillitis |
| Lymph nodes, enlarged | |

Contraindications: Do not use in cases where patient is experiencing strong chills.

Note: Take every 2-3 hours as needed at the onset of symptoms of wind invasion.
Gastrodia & Uncaria Formula (Tian Ma Gou Teng Yin) is a traditional formula used to clear heat, extinguish wind, and calm the liver. Water plantain (ze xie) was added to further aid the heat-clearing and downward action of the formula. This formula is indicated when liver yin is deficient and unable to restrain the yang of the liver, causing symptoms such as twitching, spasms, dizziness, headaches, etcetera. This formula can also be used for high blood pressure due to deficiency.

General Tonic Formula (Shi Quan Da Bu Wan), also known as “Ginseng and Tang Kuei Ten Formula,” is a common modification of Women’s Precious Formula (Ba Zhen Wan). It is an extremely versatile tonic, as it supplements qi, blood, and yang. The present formula has been augmented with jujube (da zao) to supplement the spleen and stomach and dried ginger (gan jiang) to warm the middle. General Tonic Formula is used for generalized deficiency with signs of cold.

Gentiana Drain Fire Formula (Long Dan Xie Gan Tang) is a modification of a classical formula used to drain fire in the liver and gallbladder channels and damp-heat from the lower burner. The formula was modified by adding coptis (huang lian) and tree peony (mu dan pi) for their heat-clearing and anti-microbial effects, and substituting lophatherum (dan zhu ye) for clematis (mu tong). This formula is useful in the treatment of urinary tract infections and vaginal infections with yellowish discharge, as well as ear and sinus infections when the pattern is damp-heat or fire in the gallbladder channel.

Contraindications: Do not use in cases of fever (heat) from yin deficiency. If abdominal distension occurs while taking this formula, use Ginseng & Longan Formula instead.
Ginseng & Longan Formula (Gui Pi Tang), also known as “Restore the Spleen Decoction,” is a popular formula that is used when excessive or obsessive mental activity injures both the spleen and the heart causing insomnia, palpitations, inability to concentrate, memory loss, anxiety, or phobias. Injury to the spleen impairs its ability to generate and control blood. When the blood is deficient, the heart is not nourished. This affects the heart’s ability to store the shen (spirit) and the spleen’s ability to store the yi (intelligence). This formula can be used in place of Ginseng & Astragalus Formula or General Tonic Formula in patients who experience abdominal distension when taking those formulas.

Ginseng Endurance Formula (Ren Shen Pian) is designed to enhance athletic performance and improve stamina. Most of the herbs in this formula, in addition to their Chinese medical actions, are also classified by modern pharmacology as “adaptogens.” Adaptogens can decrease the pathophysiological effects that physical and emotional stress can have upon the body, thus facilitating the body’s return to homeostasis. Collectively, the substances in this formula increase blood oxygen availability, increase breathing capacity, increase stamina, reduce the volume of toxic metabolic by-product from the stress to the muscles, and more. Eleuthero root (wu jia shen) is one of the most thoroughly studies of all adaptogenic substances. It can sharpen mental focus, invigorate blood flow and tonify the qi of the spleen and stomach. Ginseng (ren shen), atracylodes (bai zhu), and licorice root (gan cao) supplement the qi and increase the production of body fluids to help compensate for electrolyte loss. Schisandra (wu wei zi) supports the lung and heart functions and retains the essence. Rhodiola (hong jing tian) invigorates the blood and has been shown to increase arterial oxygen. Tang kuei (dang gui) supplements and invigorates the blood. Ganoderma (ling zhi) is used to supplement blood and vital qi. Cordyceps (dong chong xia cao) is a famous yang tonic that has been used by Olympic athletes to enhance performance.

GINSENG NOURISHING FORMULA

Ginseng Nourishing Formula (Ren Shen Yang Ying Wan) is a tonic for the heart as well as the qi and blood of the spleen. It is used as a general tonic for patients whose qi and blood are deficient or who also show signs of deficiency-type shen disturbance, such as anxiety or nervous exhaustion. It is also a common formula to give for post-surgical or postpartum weakness, or for debility after a long illness.

Hawthorn & Fennel Formula (Shan Zha Xiao Hui Xiang Fang) is designed to promote safe and healthy weight loss. This formula aims to increase metabolism, adjust the digestive system, promote the metabolism of fats and lipids, and aid water metabolism. It is appropriate for all types of overweight persons and safe for long-term use. Coix (yi yi ren) supplements the spleen, transforms dampness, and regulates water metabolism. Astragalus (huang qi) supplements qi and blood, promotes urination, and reduces edema. Immature bitter orange (zhi shi) regulates qi in the digestive system, directs qi downward, and disperses food accumulation. It is currently used as a “fat buster” in the natural foods industry. Hawthorn (shan zha), another “fat buster,” disperses stagnation, improves digestion of fat, and reduces cholesterol. Lotus leaf (he ye) is a digestive stimulant and, in modern times, is used as a safe diuretic that mildly clears heat. Atractylodes (bai zhu) supplements qi, transforms phlegm and dampness, and disperses water retention. Fennel (xiao hui xiang) moistens and unblocks the intestines and improves lipid metabolism. Water plantain (ze xie) promotes urination and lowers cholesterol. Rhubarb (da huang) purges the intestines and lowers cholesterol. Radish seed (lai fu zi) transforms phlegm and disperses accumulations of stagnant food. Green tea (lu cha) increases lipid metabolism and stimulates the central nervous system. It also contains anti-oxidants and is considered a tool in cancer prevention. Cinnamon twig (gui zhi) promotes circulation and is used for edema. Licorice root (gan cao) is included to supplement qi and harmonize the characteristics of the other ingredients.

Ingredients

Contraindications: DO NOT USE DURING PREGNANCY OR WHILE NURSING. Discontinue use or decrease dose if diarrhea occurs.

Note: Can be combined with an appropriate constitutional formula such as Women’s Precious Formula, Sea of Qi Formula, Tang Kuei & Salvia Formula, Free & Easy Wanderer Plus, Essential Yang Formula, etc. Best taken 30 minutes before meals. More effective weight loss will be experienced if the patient drinks 8 glasses of water per day. Healthy weight loss occurs gradually. It is important to recommend that patients establish a routine of consistent and regular aerobic exercise and to make healthy choices in their eating habits.
He Shou Wu Tablets (Shou Wu Pian) contain the single ingredient radix polygoni multiflori (he shou wu or fo-ti), which supplements the liver and kidneys and nourishes the blood, yin, and essence (jing). It also moistens the bowel and enriches the hair. “Zhi” he shou wu is the prepared form, which makes it easier to digest and more effective for strengthening sinews and bones. Clinical research has shown that he shou wu decreases blood cholesterol levels, raises serum glucose levels, and increases liver glycogen content.

HEAD RELIEF FORMULA

Head Relief Formula (Tou Pian) was created by Jake Paul Fratkin, OMD, as an herbal alternative to over-the-counter analgesics such as aspirin and acetaminophen. It is indicated for headache, and can also be used for sinus pain, toothache, and pain due to TMJ (temporomandibular joint) disorder. Over-the-counter analgesics carry a price: acetaminophen can be toxic to the liver, especially when combined with alcohol. Aspirin and ibuprofen can damage the lining of the small intestine, aggravating leaky gut syndrome or causing intestinal bleeding. Head Relief Formula is safe and can be used as needed.

Immortal Valley Formula (Xian Gu Fang) treats a variety of gynecological problems, such as cervical dysplasia and vaginal discharge with dampness and heat in the lower burner. Honeysuckle (jin yin hua), oldenlandia (bai hua she she cao), and phellodendron (huang bai) clear heat and toxin and are effective in treating the human papillomavirus (HPV) infection often associated with cervical cancer. Oldenlandia (bai hua she she cao) and paris (chong lou) clear heat-toxin and are anti-neoplastic herbs. Coix (yi yi ren), smilax (tu fu ling), and polyporus (zhu ling) also have anti-neoplastic properties, and together clear dampness and heat-toxin. Dioscorea (shan yao) supplements the spleen and kidney, while white peony (bai shao) softens and nourishes the liver. Zedoary (e zhu) is anti-neoplastic and works synergistically with achyranthes (huai niu xi) to invigorate and enliven, where stagnation of blood and congestion of dampness and heat lead to poor blood circulation and unhealthy tissue.

Intestinal Fungus Formula (Chang Mei Jun Fang) was developed by Jake Paul Fratkin, OMD, to treat candida yeast infection of the large and small intestines. Candida albicans and other opportunistic organisms develop and grow in the intestines following antibiotic therapy or the ingestion of antibiotics from meat sources. These organisms disrupt the normal bacterial flora as well as irritate and inflame the intestinal lining, contributing to “Leaky Gut Syndrome”—the infiltration of intestinal toxins into the blood. Leaky gut contributes to many health problems, including fatigue, fibromyalgia, headache, and lowered immunity. This formula directly attacks heat-toxin resulting from intestinal microbes (yeast, fungal, viral, bacterial, and protozoan) with the herbs coptis (huang lian), phellodendron (huang bai), pulsatilla (bai tou weng) and capillaris (yin chen hao). The other herbs, poria (fu ling), coix (yi yi ren) and pinellia (ban xia) dispel dampness and mucus. The formula can also be used for acute food poisoning, giardia, and “stomach flu” (gastroenteritis).

Pulse: Normal, or rapid and slippery.

Contraindications: Can cause loose stools, if so, reduce dose.

Note: When intestinal epithelia have been damaged or inflamed, combine with Pulsatilla Intestinal Formula. When treating patients diagnosed with candida, it is recommended to change herbal therapies every 30 days. Alternate with Oregano Oil Formula.
JADE SCREEN & XANTHIUM FORMULA

Jade Screen & Xanthium Formula (Yu Ping Feng Jia Cang Er San) is an augmentation of the classical formula Jade Windscreen Powder (Yu Ping Feng San), used to supplement the wei or protective qi, which defends the body from invasion by external pathogens. To this formula, magnolia flower (xin yi hua), xanthium (cang er zi), and angelica dahurica (bai zhi) have been added to address symptoms of chronic or allergic rhinitis, open the sinuses, relieve sinus headache, and disperse wind and dampness. In addition, red peony (chi shao) and forsythia (lian qiao) have been included. These herbs, according to modern research in China, address allergic inflammation. Jade Screen & Xanthium Formula is extremely effective for airborne or environmental allergies. It both stabilizes the exterior and supplements the qi to strengthen the body’s defenses. It is an excellent choice for hypertensive patients with allergies or other persons who cannot tolerate formulas that contain ephedra (ma huang).

JADE SOURCE FORMULA

Jade Source Formula (Jia Jian Yu Quan Wan) is a modification of Yu Quan Wan used to treat yin deficiency fire that has damaged both qi and fluids. The name of this formula, “Jade Source,” refers to the fluids of the mouth and the function of making fluids flow. One of the major signs is extreme thirst. This version of the formula contains Chinese yam (shan yao) to strengthen the spleen and stomach and lung yin, and Solomon’s seal (yu zhu) to nourish yin and moisten dryness. This formula is most frequently associated with the treatment of xiao ke (wasting and thirsting syndrome), which is frequently identified with diabetes mellitus. While Jade Source Formula is designed to treat disorders of any of the three burners, it is most effective for upper burner patterns, or in cases that are not yet extreme.

Ingredients

JADE WINDSCREEN FORMULA

Jade Windscreen Formula (Yu Ping Feng San) is a classical formula used to increase the protective (wei) qi. It is used for people whose immune system is weak, leaving them susceptible to catching colds. It can also be used for acute attacks of wind-cold in patients who are too weak to tolerate dispersing formulas. When taken in advance of the cold season, it can prevent colds, or in extremely weak patients, result in less frequent or less severe colds.

JI XUE FORMULA

Ji Xue Formula(Huang Qi Ji Xue Wan)* is a major restorative formula that protects the blood from damage and helps to restore circulation to the microvessels, while supplementing the middle and gently eliminating toxin. It is especially effective in the treatment of various senile diseases and as an aid to patients undergoing chemotherapy. The formula is based on two branches of modern Chinese research. The first, fu zheng pei ben theory, demonstrates that when the qi and blood are properly supported, strength and vitality return, organ function is restored, and zheng qi (upright or righteous qi) is restored. The second, heng fa, “balancing method,” emphasizes stasis transformation as an essential component of any treatment for aging or debilitation. Spatholobus (ji xue teng) builds both red and white blood cells while transforming stasis and invigorating blood flow in the minute collaterals. Astragalus (huang qi) is widely studied for increasing immunity and building spleen and lung qi. The rest of the formula includes substances to promote digestion, support the kidney and liver, and gently guide out accumulations of damp, food, and toxin.

LILY PRESERVE METAL FORMULA

Lily Preserve Metal Formula (Bai He Gu Jin Tang) is used for treating dryness of the lungs caused by damage the yin of the lung and kidney. American ginseng root (xi yang shen) has been added to the traditional formula to further nourish the lungs and to clear fire from deficiency. It can be used to nourish lung yin in a dry climate or after a respiratory illness.

Ingredients
Lilii Bulbus (Lily Bulb / Bai He) 22.2%
Rehmanniae Radix Preparata (Rehmannia, cured / Shu Di Huang) 16.6%
Rehmanniae Radix (Rehmannia, unprocessed / Sheng Di Huang) 11.0%
Panacis Quinquefolii Radix (American Ginseng Root / Xi Yang Shen) 8.3%
Ophiopogonis Radix (Ophiopogon Tuber / Mai Men Dong) 8.3%
Fritillariae Cirrhosae Bulbus (Sichuan Fritillary / Chuan Bei Mu) 5.6%
Angelicae Sinensis Radix (Dong Quai Root, Tang Kuei / Dang Gui) 5.6%
Paeoniae Radix, alba (Chinese Peony, white / Bai Shao) 5.6%
Glycyrrhizae Radix (Chinese Licorice Root / Gan Cao) 5.6%
Scrophulariae Radix (Scrophularia, Figwort Root / Xuan Shen) 5.6%
Platycodi Radix (Platycodon Root, Balloon Flower Root / Jie Geng) 5.6%

Chinese Medical Actions
Nourishes the yin, moistens the lungs, transforms phlegm, stops cough.

Tongue: Red with little coating.  Pulse: Thin and rapid.

Contraindications: This formula is used for chronic conditions or conditions that arise from external invasion, but do not resolve. For the acute stages of exterior conditions, use an appropriate surface-relieving formula. Do not use in cases of dampness or copious phlegm. In cases with accompanying diarrhea and indigestion, add a formula to strengthen the spleen and regulate the qi such as Six Gentlemen Formula.
LING ZHI LUNG FORMULA

Ling Zhi Lung Formula (Ling Zhi Fei Pian) is the result of multiple trials comparing different formulations to effectively treat asthma without using ephedra (ma huang). This formula helps to calm breathing, resolve phlegm, and descend lung qi. Especially effective for rectifying wheezing from allergies, Ling Zhi Lung Formula can be used in combination with other formulas to treat most forms of asthma. This formula is primarily supplementing and secondarily sedating, making it effective after just one or two doses, yet safe for long-term (seasonal) application.

Ingredients

Ganoderma (Reishi / Ling Zhi) 46%
Sorphorae Flavescentis Radix (Shrubby Sophora Root / Ku Shen) 21%
Lepidii Semen / Descurainiae Semen (Lepidium, Descurainia Seed / Ting Li Zi) 13%
Jujubae Fructus (Jujube Date, red / Hong Zao, Da Zao) 13%
Glycyrrhizae Radix (Chinese Licorice Root / Gan Cao) 7%

Chinese Medical Actions

Rectifies lung qi, supplements lungs, assists kidneys in grasping the qi, resolves phlegm, stops cough, arrests wheezing, calms shen.

Tongue: Normal or thick coating.
Pulse: May be superficial, slightly rapid or slightly tight and slow.

Contraindications: Do not use if condition is due to lung fire, or if the wheezing is due to pneumonia.

Dosage: This formula is safer to take in larger doses than formulas containing ephedra (ma huang).

Acute Conditions: For adults, 3-5 tablets as needed, up to five doses in 24 hours. Reduce frequency to three times daily after symptoms have abated by 50% or more. If condition does not noticeably improve within the first 24 hours, re-evaluate the diagnosis or refer to appropriate medical professional.

Sub-acute or Chronic Conditions: At the first signs of a developing asthmatic condition, take 3-5 tablets as needed, 2-3 times per day, until resolved (up to three weeks).

Note: Use Ling Zhi Lung Formula by itself to treat most types of asthmatic breathing without fever.
Combine with Lily Preserve Metal Formula if symptoms began as an acute febrile condition and the wheezing is due to yin damage sustained during the acute stage, which has developed into a chronic condition. When this combination is appropriate, there is likely to be dry throat with thirst, a geographic or scanty tongue coating, and a fine, slightly rapid pulse. Cough is often more prominent than wheezing, and may be streaked with blood. Use 2 tablets of each formula as a starting point for dosage.

Combine with Yin Chiao Formula, Viola Clear Fire Formula, or Zhong Gan Ling Formula if triggered by a sudden viral invasion in the wind-cold or wind-heat stage of penetration. This combination works best if administered within the first day of an external invasion.

Combine with Poria Five Formula if wheezing is due primarily to water retention. This condition is not common, but if the water metabolism problem leads to wheezing, this combination will work well. In such cases, Poria Five Formula will be the main formula and Ling Zhi Lung Formula will act as assistant. Accompanying signs and symptoms include urinary difficulty or retention, possible mild fever, and some clear sign of water metabolism dysfunction. (See Poria Five Formula.)
Linking Formula (Yi Guan Jian). This classic formula was designed to treat liver qi stagnation that is secondary to yin deficiency. Yin deficiency by itself can diminish the liver’s ability to regulate the qi, but when the lack of yin has allowed the development of constrained fire, the coursing and regulating function of the liver becomes even more compromised. This can create a cycle of yin deficiency-stagnation-fire-yin deficiency. The resulting fire constraint can eventually cause the liver to transversely attack the stomach causing pain, acid regurgitation, and ulceration. To the classic formula, white peony (bai shao) and licorice (gan cao) have been added, to further enhance its ability to reduce pain, especially resulting from ulcers. Today, Linking Formula is often used to treat stomach and duodenal ulcers and reflux caused by yin deficiency as well as chronic hepatitis. It is, however, appropriate to use whenever the patient presents with yin deficiency signs concurrent with qi stagnation.

Luo Bu Ma Formula (Luo Bu Ma Pian). This formula is commonly used to treat high blood pressure due to the excitation of liver fire. The chief herb of this formula, apocynum (luo bu ma), comprising almost half of the formula, is sometimes used as a stand-alone herb for its ability to lower the blood pressure and reduce cholesterol. Luo Bu Ma Formula is designed to treat excess patterns, as opposed to Gastrodia & Uncaria Formula (Tian Ma Gou Teng Yin), which treats high blood pressure by nourishing the yin to anchor the yang. Cassia seed (jue ming zi) has been substituted for the margarita (zhen zhu mu) to further promote the cholesterol-lowering aspect of the formula.

Lysimachia GB Formula (Xiao Chai Hu Jia Jin Qian Cao Pian) is a modification of Minor Bupleurum Formula (Xiao Chai Hu Tang), designed to address gallstones and gallbladder inflammation. The formula contains lysimachia (jin qian cao) to clear damp-heat from the liver and gallbladder and expel gallstones, curcuma (yu jin) to invigorate qi and blood, clear heat, cool blood and benefit the gallbladder, and capillaris (yin chen hao) to clear damp-heat from the liver and gallbladder. In addition, bamboo shavings (zhu ru) cool blood, clear heat and phlegm-heat; gardenia fruit (zhi zi) drains damp-heat and moves constrained liver and gallbladder qi; white peony (bai shao) softens the liver to stop painful spasms in the abdomen; and melia fruit (chuan lian zi) moves liver qi stagnation and stops pain. These modifications make this formula specific for gallbladder inflammation, damp-heat, and gallstones.

MARGARITA COMPLEXION FORMULA

Margarita Complexion Formula (Zhen Zhu Yu Rong Fang). Margarita (zhen zhu) is considered a beauty tonic for the skin, especially the face. This formula is used for facial acne in adolescents and adults. It addresses the main causes of acne by clearing heat from the blood, and drying dampness. It can also be used for red rashes, pimples, itchiness, eczema, hives from heat in the blood or stomach heat, and thyroid nodules.

Minor Bupleurum Formula (Xiao Chai Hu Tang) is a classical formula used to harmonize shaoyang-stage disorders (where the pathogenic qi is half-exterior, half-interior or when there are alternating chills and fever). It is helpful in cases where the symptoms of a cold or flu may linger for weeks after the initial acute phase of the illness is over. This formula helps the patient resolve the illness more quickly. It is highly effective for the treatment of ear infections, mumps, and tonsillitis in children. In Japan, this formula is used as an immune system stimulant to prevent the common cold.

MOBILIZE ESSENCE FORMULA

Mobilize Essence Formula (Fu Ren Bu Yin Pian) is commonly used during the ovulation phase of the menstrual cycle to support fertility. Once the follicle ruptures, a quick transition from yin to yang must occur. The earlier phase requires a build up of yin and blood. During the second phase, the yin still requires gentle support, but the yang is engaged and the blood mobilized so that the follicle can undergo its rapid transformation. Ligustrum (nu zhen zi) supports the yin without being cloying; cuscuta (tu si zi) and dipsacus (xu duan) encourage proper movement of the yang. The scope of this formula is not restricted to treating infertility. It is appropriate whenever gentle yin-yang balancing is needed while invigorating the blood.

| Headaches, mid-menstrual cycle | Menstruation, scanty or absent |
| Infertility caused by dysfunction during ovulation | Ovarian cysts |
| Ovulation, late | Ovulation, pain with |

Tongue: Pale, slightly purple, may have distended veins.
Pulse: Thin or weak, wiry.

Contraindications: DO NOT USE DURING PREGNANCY.

Note: Use with Cinnamon & Poria Formula or Phlegm-Transforming Formula, for phlegm-damp accumulation. Use with Nourish Ren & Chong Formula for concurrent yin and blood deficiency. When treating ovulation, begin 3 days before ovulation and take for 6 days.
Mulberry & Lycium Formula (Xie Bai San) is a modified version of what Li Shi-zhen referred to as the exemplar formula for draining the lung. Its primary action is to disperse constrained heat, latent heat, or smoldering fire in the lung. Originally designed as a pediatric formula to treat cough and wheezing due to lung heat, this version is made stronger through the omission of the large percentage of rice, and is widely used to treat both children and adults. Lophatherum (dan zhu ye) has been added to augment the heat-clearing action and to address the restlessness that often accompanies this pattern. Anemarrhena (zhi mu) and prepared soya (dan dou qi) have been added to intensify the heat dispersing action, to help protect the lung yin, and to restore the vital essence. This formula is indispensable for treating full-blown influenza when there is scanty or no phlegm.

Ingredients
Mori Cortex (White Mulberry Root Bark / Sang Bai Pi) 25%
Lycii Cortex (Lycium Root Bark, Chinese Boxthorn Rootbark / Di Gu Pi) 25%
Lophatheri Herba (Lophatherum / Dan Zhu Ye) 14%
Glycyrrhizae Radix (Chinese Licorice Root / Gan Cao) 13%
Sojae Semen Preparatum (Soybean, prepared / Xiang Dou Chi) 13%
Anemarrhenae Rhizoma (Anemarrhena Rhizome / Zhi Mu) 10%

Chinese Medical Actions
Disperses constrained heat and fire in the lungs, eliminates latent heat and fire in the lungs, stops cough and wheezing.

Indications
- Body aches, severe
- Bronchial asthma
- Bronchitis
- Chest, stifling sensation in
- Conjunctivitis
- Cough
- Coughing up blood
- Dry mouth

Tongue: Red body or tip, possibly with yellow fur.  Pulse: Rapid, fine.

Contraindications: Do not use in cases of wind-cold invasion or in the early stage of wind-heat.

Note: If there is high fever or wind-heat skin lesions, use Siler & Platycodon Formula instead.
Neck Formula (Bai Zhi Ge Gen Wan) is designed to relieve affictions of the head, neck, upper back, and shoulders from acute wind-cold, wind-damp, or wind-cold-damp. It can be used for chronic pain in these areas if caused by wind-cold-damp bi syndrome. Neck Formula (Bai Zhi Ge Gen Wan) can also be used as a replacement for Pueraria Formula (Ge Gen Tang) for treating wind-cold invasion with no sweating.

Ingredients
Angelicae Dahuricae Radix (Purple Angelica / Bai Zhi) 43%
Puerariae Radix (Kudzu Root / Ge Gen) 20%
Notopterygii Rhizoma seu Radix (Notopterygium / Qiang Huo) 17%
Chuanxiong Rhizoma (Ligusticum Wallichii Rhizome / Chuan Xiong) 15%
Glycyrrhizae Radix (Chinese Licorice Root / Gan Cao) 5%

Chinese Medical Actions
Releases the exterior, raises yang, releases the muscle layer of the head and neck, releases the taiyang and yangming channels in the upper body, dispels wind, damp, and cold, opens nasal passages.

Tongue: Normal body, white coat. Pulse: Floating and tight.

Contraindications: This formula is to be used for acute patterns or during an acute flare up of a chronic condition. If taking for extended period of time, a supplementing formula that address the particular constitutional deficiencies of the patient should be prescribed with Neck Formula. If a person has chronic blood heat, this formula may exacerbate lesions; to avoid this complication, take with Rehmannia Cool Blood Formula.
Nourish Essence Formula (Zi Jing Di Huang Wan) is based on Rehmannia Six (Liu Wei Di Huang Wan), a classical formula for deficient kidney and liver yin. Added to this are polygonum (zhi he shou wu) and lycium (gou qi zi), yin herbs that nourish the blood; cistanches (rou cong rong), cynomorium (suo yang), and cuscuta (tu si zi), herbs that supplement yang and jing (essence); and schisandra (wu wei zi) and palm leaf raspberry (fu pen zi), astringent herbs that help retain jing (essence). It supplements kidney yin and yang, as well as liver yin.

Ingredients
Rehmanniae Radix Preparata (Rehmannia, cured / Shu Di Huang) 14%
Dioscoreae Rhizoma (Chinese Yam / Shan Yao) 9%
Polygoni Multiflori Radix Preparata (Fo-Ti / Zhi He Shou Wu) 9%

NOURISH REN & CHONG FORMULA

Nourish Ren & Chong Formula (Jia Wei Gui Shao Di Huang Wan) nourishes the yin and blood to support the reproductive functions of the ren and chong vessels during the first phase of a woman’s menstrual cycle. During the first phase of the cycle, it is important to support follicle growth and to prepare for ovulation. This support is accomplished by strongly nourishing the yin and blood, and by gently removing heat in the heart and liver that might lead to stasis or emotional imbalance. The scope of the formula extends beyond its application for infertility. It is an appropriate formula whenever there is a pattern of blood and yin deficiency with mild build up of heat.

Tongue: Pale or slightly reddish body, scanty or no coating, may have red tip or sides. Pulse: Thin or weak in liver and kidney positions.

Note: In cases of spleen deficiency, use in conjunction with an appropriate formula. Use with True Yin Formula if stronger kidney/liver yin support is desired. Use with Salvia Ten Formula for concurrent spleen qi deficiency with liver-heart stagnation.
Oregano Oil Formula (Jia Wei Tu Yin Chen You Jiao Nang) is a liquid concentrate in vegetable cellulose capsules. This formula combines wild Mediterranean oregano oil extract (tu yin chen)—standardized to a minimum of 70% carvacrol—with coptis (huang lian), quisqualis (shi jun zi), and mume (wu mei). Oregano oil has a history of medical use that dates back to ancient Greece. The essential oil is a blend of phenolic compounds with broad-spectrum, anti-microbial actions and immune-building properties. It is combined with Chinese herbs to increase effectiveness for bacterial infection, candida, worms, and other parasites. Oregano Oil Formula can also be used externally. This is an excellent formula to take while traveling in places where intestinal parasites are common.

Ingredients
Quisqualis Fructus (Quisqualis Fruit / Shi Jun Zi) 48%
Oil of Origanum Vulgare (Oregano Oil / Tu Yin Chen) 25%
Mume Fructus (Mume Fruit, Japanese Apricot / Wu Mei) 19%
Coptidis Rhizoma (Coptis / Huang Lian) 8%

Chinese Medical Actions
Clears acute damp-heat, resolves fire-toxin, expels parasites.

Tongue: Pale, may be shaky, with thin, white coating.

Pulse: Weak or thin, especially in upper and middle positions.

Contraindications: Do not use in excess conditions or with signs of heat. In cases where there are also signs of heat from deficient yin, use Heavenly Emperor’s Formula or Zizyphus Formula instead.
Peony & Atractylodes Formula (Tong Xie Yao Fang) is one of the most popular formulas in China for treating Irritable Bowel Syndrome (IBS) with marked diarrhea. It is especially effective at relieving pain. The formula is safe for infants with diarrhea and for long term use. The traditional symptomology addressed by this formula describes abdominal pain that is relieved after the individual passes stool. The stool is characteristically small in volume and remarkably loose.

Ingredients
Atractylodis Macrocephalae Rhizoma (White Atractylodes Rhizome, dry-fried / Chao Bai Zhu) 36%
Paeoniae Radix, alba (Chinese Peony, white, dry-fried / Chao Bai Shao) 23%

Chinese Medical Actions

Moistens and unblocks the intestines, nourishes blood, promotes the movement of qi.

Indications

| Bowel movement, incomplete or painful | Constipation | Stool, hard or difficult to pass |

Tongue: Dry, with yellow coating.

Pulse: Submerged, rapid, floating, or choppy.

Contraindications: DO NOT USE DURING PREGNANCY OR WHILE NURSING. Use cautiously with patients with spleen qi deficiency or spleen-damp conditions. Not recommended for children under age six.
Phlegm-Transforming Formula (Xia Ku Hua Tan Pian) is a modern formula for patterns of phlegm accumulation. It addresses the qi stagnation, blood stasis, heat-toxin, spleen and kidney deficiency, and yin and blood deficiency that often accompany chronic phlegm patterns. Originally developed as a gynecological formula for ovarian cysts, this formula may also be used for any long-term phlegm-accumulation disorder.

Contraindications: DO NOT USE DURING PREGNANCY.
Pinellia & Magnolia Bark Formula (Ban Xia Hou Po Tang) is a classical Chinese formula. This version has been augmented with cyperus (xiang fu) and green tangerine peel (qing pi) to aid in the movement of stagnant qi. This formula is appropriate in cases of constrained qi with phlegm. This condition is classically known as “plum pit qi” (mei he qi), which usually results from emotional upset or stress. The patient will most commonly experience a sensation of something caught in the throat that can neither be coughed up nor swallowed, or a stifling feeling in the chest and hypochondriac region. Pinellia & Magnolia Bark Formula is also highly effective for treating bronchitis and chronic sub-acute phlegm issues in the upper and middle burners when there is little or no heat.

Polyporus & Dianthus Formula (Zhu Ling Qu Mai Tang) is a modification of Polyporus Formula, a traditional Shang Han Lun formula used to treat pathogenic influences which have transformed into heat in the interior. It is one of the most commonly used formulas for treating urinary tract infections. The traditional formula was modified by adding lophatherum (dan zhu ye), dianthus (qu mai), anemarrhena (zhi mu), andrographis (chuan xin lian), and phellodendron (huang bai). These herbs augment the heat-clearing and dampness-removing properties of the formula. The talcum in the original formula has been replaced with pyrrosia leaf (shi wei).

Poria & Bamboo Formula (Wen Dan Tang) dates back to the 7th century. It was originally intended for treatment of post-wind-cold exterior patterns leading to stomach-gallbladder disharmony. This results in accumulation of phlegm that stagnates qi and combines with heat. Phlegm-heat and stagnation hinder the rising of clear yang, resulting in dizziness or vertigo. Also, phlegm-heat can become rebellious causing nausea or vomiting. Furthermore, phlegm-heat can disturb the chest and heart, manifesting as irritability, insomnia, palpitations, and anxiety. Because stomach-gallbladder disharmony can produce such varying symptoms, this formula can treat many different disorders. The patient will present with phlegm in the middle burner, resulting in symptoms such as heart or shen disturbance or counterflow of stomach qi. Polygala (yuan zhi) has been added to further assist in dispelling phlegm and calming the spirit.

Contraindications: Use only with clear signs of phlegm. This formula is drying; use caution with yin deficiency.
Poria Fifteen Formula (Shi Wu Wei Fu Ling Pian) was originally designed to help treat obesity. It improves digestion, increases elimination, aids in lipid metabolism, and reduces serum cholesterol, phlegm, and water excess. Suitable for all types of overweight persons, this formula is balanced and safe for long-term use. It is appropriate, not just for obesity, but whenever there is damp accumulation in the lower and middle burner.

Poria Five Formula (Wu Ling San), also known as “Hoelen Five Formula,” is a classical formula from the Shang Han Lun. It is used to treat water metabolism dysfunction with urinary retention or edema. The causes of this condition can be varied: pathogenic influences from a taiyang stage disorder which have penetrated into the urinary bladder, spleen deficiency which results in accumulation of water in the muscles and skin, or retention of congested fluids in the lower burner.

Tongue: Swollen, wet.  Pulse: Slippery, may be superficial and rapid.

Contraindications: Use with caution in patients with spleen and kidney qi deficiency. Overuse may cause dizziness, vertigo, lack of appetite, and a bland taste in the mouth. In cases of urinary difficulty with yin deficiency, use with True Yin Formula.
Prostate Formula (Qiang Lie Xian Fang) is designed to promote healthy function of the prostate. From the perspective of Oriental medicine, the prostate gland is primarily nourished by the spleen, kidney, and liver channels. With modern lifestyles and advancing years, certain patterns occur which affect the prostate gland. Decline of spleen yang can bring about an accumulation of dampness in the lower burner. Further decline of kidney yang, a normal occurrence with aging and stress, diminishes urinary function and sexual energy. This formula treats dampness and stasis in the lower burner brought about by deficiency of spleen and kidney yang. This condition is characterized by sexual dysfunction, or frequent or inhibited urination. In Western medicine, this often corresponds to Benign Prostatic Hypertrophy (BPH) or enlarged prostate. For many men, these symptoms begin around age 40. Prostate Formula supplements the yang and drains accumulated dampness to protect against the effects of aging on the prostate.

Tongue: Red or red tip. Pulse: Large, rapid, often floating.

Contraindications: This formula contains several cold or cool herbs. Prolonged use may cause stomach upset or loose stools.
Pulsatilla Intestinal Formula (Bai Tou Weng Li Chang Fang) is a modern formula developed by Jake Paul Fratkin, OMD, to treat epithelial inflammation in the small intestine. This inflammation can result from microbial infection (yeast, bacterial, viral, fungal, or protozoan) or food allergies, and contributes to “Leaky Gut Syndrome.” In prolonged intestinal inflammation, chemical and physical toxins are absorbed into the blood stream and can cause lowered immunity, chronic fatigue, and fibromyalgia. It is often the underlying cause of a number of disorders, including eczema, asthma, sinusitis, dysmenorrhea, and premenstrual syndrome.

Ingredients

- Poria (Poria, Hoelen, Tuckahoe / Fu Ling) 17%
- Pulsatillae Radix (Chinese Pulsatilla Root / Bai Tou Weng) 15%
- Phellodendri Cortex (Phellodendron Bark / Huang Bai) 14%
- Atractylodis Rhizoma (Cang-Zhu Atractylodes Rhizome / Cang Zhu) 14%
- Paeoniae Radix, alba (Chinese Peony, white / Bai Shao) 12%
- Coptidis Rhizoma (Coptis / Huang Lian) 12%
- Vladimiria Radix (Vladimiria Root / Chuan Mu Xiang) 8%
- Glycyrrhizae Radix (Chinese Licorice Root / Gan Cao) 8%

Chinese Medical Action

Clears heat, resolves toxin, drains dampness, and promotes tissue growth.

Indications

| Abdominal pain or cramping | Intestinal inflammation |
| Crohn’s Disease | Irritable Bowel Syndrome |
| Diarrhea | Leaky Gut Syndrome |
| Fatigue | Stool, loose or erratic |
| Food allergies | Skin problems |

Tongue: Normal or red, with a yellow, greasy coating.

Pulse: Normal, or rapid and slippery.

Contraindications: Reduce dose if loose stools occur while taking this formula.

Note: In Leaky Gut Syndrome, attention should also be paid to liver stagnation. Chronic cases may need kidney support. In cases of irritation due to fungal, bacterial, or protozoan sources, combine with Intestinal Fungus Formula or Oregano Oil Formula.
Rabdosia Prostate Formula (Dong Ling Cao Fang). A number of the herbs in this formula have been used in China in recent years to treat patients with prostate cancer. Rabdosia (dong ling cao), barbed skullcap (ban zhi lian), old-enlandia (bai hua she she cao), isatis (da qing ye), moutan (mu dan pi), zedoary (e zhu), and amber (hu po) are used in traditional Chinese herbal medicine to treat cancer and tumors. Licorice (gan cao) and ganoderma (ling zhi) support qi and the body’s immune function. Lindera (wu yao) and cyathula (chuan niu xi) relieve pain in the lower abdomen. According to modern research, saw palmetto reduces inflammation and supports prostate health.

Ingredients
Rabdosiae Herba (Rabdosia / Dong Ling Cao) 24.1%
Hedyotis Diffusae Herba (Hedyotis, Oldenlandia / Bai Hua She She Cao) 13.8%
Isatidis Folium (Isatis Leaf, Indigo Woad Leaf / Da Qing Ye) 6.9%
Scutellaria barbatae Herba (Barbed Skullcap / Ban Zhi Lian) 6.2%
Moutan Cortex (Tree Peony / Mu Dan Pi) 6.2%
Paridis Rhizoma (Paris Rhizome / Chong Lou) 6.2%
Glycyrrhizae Radix (Chinese Licorice Root / Gan Cao) 6.2%
Cyathulae Radix (Cyathula Root / Chuan Niu Xi) 6.2%
Curcumae Rhizoma (Zedoary Rhizome / E Zhu) 6.2%
Linderae Radix (Lindera Tuber, Chinese Allspice / Wu Yao) 6.2%
Serenoae Fructus (Saw Palmetto Berry) 5.6%
Succinum Resina (Amber / Hu Po) 3.4%
Ganoderma (Reishi / Ling Zhi) 2.8%

Chinese Medical Actions
Clears heat and damp-heat, cools and invigorates blood, disperses swelling, resolves toxin.

Indications

| Elevated PSA (Prostate Specific Antigen) count | Prostatitis, acute Urogenital dampness and pain |

Tongue: May be swollen, purple, or red, with yellow coating.
Pulse: Rapid, wiry.

Contraindications: Use caution in cases where there is an absence of heat.
Rehmannia & Scrophularia Formula (Zhi Bai Di Huang Wan) is a modification of Anemarrhena, Phellodendron, and Rehmannia Formula (Zhi Bai Di Huang Wan), with the addition of lycium root bark (di gu pi) and scrophularia (xuan shen). Based on Rehmannia Six Formula (Liu Wei Di Huang Wan), a kidney yin tonic, this formula is used specifically to address yin deficiency with fire, internal heat, or “bone-steaming” heat. It is excellent for feelings of “burn out” or exhaustion with heat, and is one of the most commonly used formulas for controlling hot flashes.

Ingredients

- Rehmanniae Radix (Rehmannia, unprocessed / Sheng Di Huang) 20.3%
- Scrophulariae Radix (Scrophularia, Figwort Root / Xuan Shen) 14.6%
- Dioscoreae Rhizoma (Chinese Yam / Shan Yao) 9.8%
- Alismatis Rhizoma (Asian Water Plantain / Ze Xie) 9.8%
- Moutan Cortex (Tree Peony / Mu Dan Pi) 9.8%
- Poria (Poria, Hoelen, Tuckahoe / Fu Ling) 9.8%
- Lycii Cortex (Lycium Root Bark, Chinese Boxthorn Root bark / Di Gu Pi) 9.8%
- Corni Fructus (Asiatic Dogwood Fruit, Asiatic Cornel / Shan Zhu Yu) 6.5%
- Phellodendri Cortex (Phellodendron Bark / Huang Bai) 4.8%
- Anemarrhenae Rhizoma (Anemarrhena Rhizome / Zhi Mu) 4.8%

Chinese Medical Actions

Nourishes the yin and the kidneys, clears heat, quells fire.

Indications

| Back pain | Night sweats |
| Dizziness or vertigo | Palms and soles, hot |
| Face, red | Pain, in back or at midline |
| Fever, low grade, afternoon, or tidal | Premature ejaculation |
| Hot flashes | Restlessness |
| Hyperthyroidism | Spontaneous seminal emission |
| Insomnia | Toothache, from deficiency fire |
| Impotence | Throat, sore and dry |
| | Urinary difficulty |

Tongue: Dry, red or red sides, glossy.

Pulse: Rapid and thin, may be large in the kidney position.

Contraindications: Do not use with internal or external cold. If heat signs are not present, use Rehmannia Six Formula or True Yin Formula instead.
Rehmannia Cool Blood Formula (Tu Fu Ling Sheng Di Huang Wan) clears heat from the blood without the use of animal parts, such as rhinoceros horn or its substitute, water buffalo horn. In Wen Bing theory, the blood level is the deepest of the four levels of disease. Heat in the blood can cause bleeding disorders such as nosebleed, vomiting blood, or blood in the urine and stools, and various types of skin rashes. Rehmannia Cool Blood Formula can also be used to destroy bacteria that has entered the blood.

Ingredients
Smilacis Glabrae Rhizoma (Chinese Smilax Rhizome / Tu Fu Ling) 14.5%
Rehmanniae Radix (Rehmannia, unprocessed / Sheng Di Huang) 14.5%
Nelumbinis Folium (Lotus Leaf / He Ye) 7.5%
Lonicerae Flos (Japanese Honeysuckle Flower / Jin Yin Hua) 7.5%
Sanguisorbae Radix (Sanguisorba Root, Long-Leaf Burnet Root / Di Yu) 7%
Gypsum Fibrosum (Gypsum / Shi Gao) 7%
Glauberitum (Calcitum / Han Shui Shi) 7%
Dictamni Cortex (Dictamus Root Bark, Dense-Fruit Dittany / Bai Xian Pi) 5%
Moutan Cortex (Tree Peony / Mu Dan Pi) 5%
Paeoniae Radix, rubra (Chinese Peony, red / Chi Shao) 5%
Carthami Flos (Safflower, Carthamus / Hong Hua) 5%
Glehniae Radix (Glehnia Root / Sha Shen) 5%
Ophiopogonis Radix (Ophiopogon Tuber / Mai Men Dong) 5%
Scrophulariae Radix (Scrophularia, Figwort Root / Xuan Shen) 5%

Chinese Medical Actions
Clears heat and cools blood, drains fire, removes toxin, nourishes yin, moves blood stasis, stops bleeding.

Rehmannia Six Formula (Liu Wei Di Huang Wan) is the famous, classical Chinese herbal formula used to treat kidney and liver yin deficiency. By supplementing the yin of the kidney and liver, this formula helps to support the root yin of the whole body. Originally from a pediatric text, Rehmannia Six Formula was developed to treat children with slow development or failure to thrive. Essence-building herbs—cured rehmannia (shu di huang) and corni (shan zhu yu)—are combined with alismatis (ze xie) and moutan (mu dan pi) to drain fire, poria (fu ling) to drain dampness, and dioscorea (shan yao) to strengthen the spleen. Thus, it is a well-balanced formula, appropriate for long-term use to build yin and drain deficiency fire.

Ingredients
Rehmanniae Radix Preparata (Rehmannia, cured / Shu Di Huang) 32%
Corni Fructus (Asiatic Dogwood Fruit, Asiatic Cornel / Shan Zhu Yu) 16%
Dioscoreae Rhizoma (Chinese Yam / Shan Yao) 16%
Moutan Cortex (Tree Peony / Mu Dan Pi) 12%
Poria (Poria, Hoelen, Tuckahoe / Fu Ling) 12%
Alismatis Rhizoma (Asian Water Plantain / Ze Xie) 12%

Chinese Medical Actions
Supplements yin, nourishes kidneys and liver, builds and stabilizes essence.

Indications

| Back (lower), weak and sore | Menopause, premature |
| Children, slow development in Constitution, delicate | Night sweats |
| Diabetes mellitus | Nocturnal emissions |
| Dizziness or vertigo | Palms and soles, hot |
| Dry mouth or throat (chronic) | Premature ejaculation |
| Fatigue | Ringing in the ear |
| Hearing loss | Tidal fever |
| Impotence | Urinary tract infection, chronic |
| Knees weak | Vision blurred |

Tongue: Red, with thin coating, dry.  Pulse: Thready and rapid.

Contraindications: Rehmannia Six Formula should be used with caution in cases where the patient has weak digestion, loose stools due to spleen deficiency, or a white, greasy tongue coating.
Rejuvenation Formula (Huan Shao Dan) is a popular formula for treating conditions associated with the common deficiencies of aging, especially premature aging. It is a major formula for treating a decline in the various basic desires and appetites that are the conventional hallmarks of vitality, specifically, loss of interest in food and sex. It is commonly used to treat impotence, premature ejaculation, and diminishing hearing and/or eyesight, as well as chronic fatigue.

Chinese Medical Actions

Augments the qi of the kidneys and spleen, nourishes the heart, nourishes yin, supplements blood, supports yang.

Indications

| Abdomen, cold | Impotence |
| Aging, premature | Libido, low |
| Appetite, loss of | Night sweats |
| Back, heavy feeling in | Spontaneous seminal emission |
| Ejaculation, premature | Teeth, loosening |
| Emaciation | Vaginal discharge, white |
| Fatigue, chronic | Vision, decline of |
| Hearing loss | Weight loss, unintended |

Tongue: Pale or normal.  Pulse: Weak or moderate.

Contraindications: Do not use with an excess pattern.
Resolve the Middle Formula (Jia Wei Ping Wei Fang) is a modified version of Ping Wei San, which treats damp turbidity causing stagnation in the middle burner. This formula is best applied when spleen qi deficiency is secondary to the accumulation of damp. The spleen is easily susceptible to the encumbrance of damp from the occasional overindulgence in food or alcohol, or from the long-standing habit of an improper diet. This causes the spleen to become compromised in its transportation and transformation function, leading to damp stagnation with pain, indigestion, bloating and abdominal discomfort after meals, chronic loose or irregular stools, irregular appetite, dulling of taste, and lethargy. The traditional formula has been modified to include coix (yi yi ren), poria (fu ling), and amomum (sha ren) to help disinhibit dampness and support the spleen, immature bitter orange (zhi shi) and hawthorn (shan zha) to disperse digestive stagnation, and vladimiria (chuan mu xiang) to promote the downward flow of qi through the digestive tract and relieve abdominal distension. Codonopsis (dang shen) is included to supplement the qi of the spleen and stomach. This formula can be helpful in patients on a weight loss regimen who are experiencing damp encumbrance. Often, these patients will have such an overwhelming amount of dampness that it is necessary to use this formula initially before the root conditions can be addressed.

Ingredients

Tongue: Swollen, possibly with teeth marks; thick, white, greasy coating.

Pulse: Moderate or slippery.

Contraindications: USE WITH CAUTION DURING PREGNANCY. This is a drying formula and should not be used with those who are severely yin or blood deficient unless coupled with an appropriate formula.

Note: This formula is best applied in the short term to overcome damp encumbrance.
Restful Sleep Formula (An Xin Pian) is a modification of Baked Licorice Decoction (Zhi Gan Cao Tang), traditionally used for heart qi and blood deficiency. This version has been modified with biota (bai zi ren) to nourish the heart and calm the spirit; longan (long yan rou) to supplement the heart and spleen, nourish the blood, and calm the spirit; and mimosa (he huan hua) to calm the spirit. This formula is used for chronic sleep disorders. The state of the shen (spirit) is responsible for the quantity and quality of sleep. The shen is housed in the heart and is supported by heart blood. After a sleepless night, the qi becomes depleted. A pattern of chronic sleeplessness leads to a deficiency of heart blood and yin. As the deficiency becomes more pronounced, it becomes increasingly more difficult to sleep. Restful Sleep Formula helps to break this cycle and restore normal sleep patterns. This is an excellent formula for insomnia in older patients with chronic deficiency patterns.

Note: This formula should be taken consistently over a period of time to address deficiency of qi and heart blood created by a pattern of sleeplessness. It will be important to address other possible causes for insomnia, such as pain or other patterns of disharmony. For insomnia due to liver yin deficiency, use Zizyphus Formula. In cases with liver fire, use Bupleurum D Formula. For heart and kidney yin deficiency, use Heavenly Emperor’s Formula. For insomnia with depression, use Salvia Ten Formula. With shen disturbance or heart qi and yin deficiency, use An Mien Formula.
Restorative Formula (Yang Xue Zhuang Jin Jian Bu Wan) is a versatile anti-aging tonic that addresses mild to moderate chronic pain from deficiency. Most formulas designed to treat pain primarily use herbs that regulate and invigorate qi and blood. Restorative Formula differs in that it not only moves blood and qi, but also focuses on supplementing qi, blood, yin, and yang. This makes it ideal for patients whose presentation is more related to deficiency than stasis. The balanced nature of the formula allows it to transform damp without damaging yin, thus making it ideal as a general tonic for aging patients.

Chinese Medical Actions
Nourishes qi, yin, and blood, dispels wind and dampness, frees the connecting vessels to relieve pain, secures essence, regulates rising and descending of yin and yang.

Indications
| Arthritis | Limbs, tired or aching |
| Chronic pain in the elderly or in patients weakened by illness | Nerve pain |
| Fibromyalgia | Pain in the muscles, tendons, and joints |

Tongue: Pale, with a thin, white coating, or small and dark red.
Pulse: Weak and thin.
Restore the Lung Formula (Bu Fei Tang) treats chronic cough that has arisen from depleted lung qi following an acute or prolonged illness. The original formulation is a modification of Sheng Mai Formula, which is for restoring the pulse after prolonged or severe illness. Instead of ophiopogon (mai men dong), Restore the Lung Formula contains prepared rehmannia (shu di huang) because the emphasis is not so much on moistening as it is on restoring a strong relationship between lung and kidney. The source formula includes mulberry bark (sang bai pi) and aster (zi wan) to relieve cough. Platycodon (jie geng) has been added to enhance the formula’s ability to resolve phlegm and stop cough.

Ingredients
Astragali Radix (Astragalus / Huang Qi) 20%
Rehmanniae Radix Preparata (Rehmannia, cured / Shu Di Huang) 20%
Codonopsis Radix (Codonopsis / Dang Shen) 15%

Platycodi Radix (Platycodon Root, Balloon Flower Root / Jie Geng) 10%
Schisandraceae Fructus (Northern Schisandra Fruit / Wu Wei Zi) 8%

Chinese Medical Actions
Revitalizes lung qi, harmonizes lung and kidney, resolves phlegm, relieves cough.

Indications
| Bronchitis, chronic or post-acute | Shortness of breath |
| Cough, chronic (dry or phlegmatic) | Sweating, spontaneous |
| Fatigue |

Tongue: Pale, may be slightly red at tip. Pulse: Large, empty.

Note: The application of this formula is similar to that of Lily Preserve Metal Formula. The main difference is that Lily Preserve Metal Formula restores the lung that has sustained damage primarily to its fluids; Restore the Lung Formula revitalizes the lung qi that has been depleted.
Salvia Ten Formula (Dan Shen Jia Si Jun Zi Pian) is based on a formula used in modern China for the treatment of depression. The original formula emphasizes the promotion of blood flow and the balancing of the heart. To the basic formula, the traditional Six Gentlemen Formula (Liu Jun Zi Wan) has been added to support the general vitality, which is often diminished in chronic depression. When appropriate, this formula can be useful for patients who are undergoing psychotherapy, as it helps lighten and free the emotions while providing support.

San Qi Formula (San Qi Pian). This formula combines several potent, blood-stanching herbs to treat bleeding from internal disorders or from external trauma.

Ingredients
Notoginseng Radix (Tienqi Ginseng, Pseudoginseng / San Qi, Tian Qi) 45%
Agrimoniae Herba (Agrimony / Xian He Cao) 20%
Celosiae Cristatae Flos (Cockscomb Flower / Ji Guan Hua) 15%
Imperatae Rhizoma (Imperata Rhizome / Bai Mao Gen) 10%
Platycladi Cacumen (Oriental Arborvitae Leaf and Stem / Ce Bai Ye) 10%

Chinese Medical Actions
Stops bleeding, dispels blood stasis.

Indications

| Bleeding, internal or external, from trauma or heat | Menstrual bleeding, excessive |
| Blood in the urine or stool | Nosebleed |
| Coughing up blood | Phlebitis |
| Crohn’s disease, acute | Rectal bleeding |
| Gums, bleeding | Ulcers, bleeding |
| Hemorrhoids | Uterine bleeding |
| | Vomiting blood |

Contraindications: DO NOT USE DURING PREGNANCY.

Note: For bleeding from a constitutional imbalance, it may be appropriate to combine with a formula to treat the root disorder. For example, bleeding due to heat in the blood can be addressed with Rehmannia Cool Blood Formula. Qi deficiency bleeding can be addressed by using San Qi Formula with Ginseng & Astragalus Formula. Bleeding from blood-heat (especially uterine bleeding) precipitated by liver qi stagnation can be treated by combining San Qi Formula with Free & Easy Wanderer Plus.
Sea of Qi Formula (Qi Hai Yao Fang) is designed to strengthen the dantien or hara by vitalizing the yang of the kidney and spleen. It is useful for patients with kidney deficiency who also have weak spleen yang and lack the digestive fire to process kidney tonics alone.

Ingredients

SEVEN TREASURES FORMULA

Seven Treasures Formula (Jin Hua Mei Ran Wan). The traditional formula upon which this tablet is based treats a broad range of symptoms that result from deficient kidney yin and essence (jing), and deficient liver blood and yin. The Chinese name of this formula can be translated as “Seven Treasures Elixir for Beautiful Hair.” In contemporary times, it has been commonly used to treat thinning or graying hair, even though the source text makes only a passing reference to this symptom. The formula presented here has been modified with drynaria (gu sui bu) to further supplement the kidney and liver, red peony (chi shao) to cool and invigorate blood, and licorice root (gan cao) to harmonize and supplement qi.

Ingredients
Polygoni Multiflori Radix Preparata (Fo-Ti / Zhi He Shou Wu) 20%
Drynariae Rhizoma (Drynaria Rhizome / Gu Sui Bu) 12%
Lycii Fructus (Lycium Fruit, Chinese Wolfberry / Gou Qi Zi) 11%
Achyranthis Bidentatae Radix (Achyranthes / Huai Niu Xi) 10%
Angelicae Sinensis Radix (Dong Quai Root, Tang Kuei / Dang Gui) 10%
Cuscutae Semen (Chinese Dodder Seed, Chinese Cuscuta / Tu Si Zi) 10%
Psoraleae Fructus (Psoralea Fruit / Bu Gu Zhi) 10%
Poria (Poria, Hoelen, Tuckahoe / Fu Ling) 8%
Paeoniae Radix, rubra (Chinese Peony, red / Chi Shao) 6%
Glycyrrhizae Radix (Chinese Licorice Root / Gan Cao) 3%

Chinese Medical Actions
Replenishes yin and essence (jing) of the kidney, nourishes liver blood and yin, supports kidney yang.

Indications

| Back (lower), weak and sore | Knees, weak and sore |
| Hair, premature graying | Nocturnal emissions |
| Hair loss or thinning | Thirst |
| Infertility from kidney deficiency | Vaginal discharge, profuse |

Tongue: Pale, thin, shiny, or lacking a tongue coating.
Pulse: Thin, weak, may also be tight.

Contraindications: Use with caution with patients who have a thick tongue coating or loose stools. May be combined with qi-supplementing formulas when appropriate. Do not use during the course of an external wind invasion.
Sheng Mai Formula (Sheng Mai San), also known as “Generate the Pulse Powder,” is a classical formula used to strengthen the pulse by strengthening the qi and yin of the lungs. It is used for injury to the yin from summer heat or in cases of chronic weakness caused by lung qi or yin deficiency. It can also be used after trauma or shock, or whenever the pulse has become remarkably deficient after an external invasion. Today, this formula is also frequently used to treat a wide range of cardiovascular conditions.

Ingredients
Ginseng Radix (Asian Ginseng Root / Ren Shen) 37.5%
Ophiopogonis Radix (Ophiopogon Tuber / Mai Men Dong) 37.5%
Schisandraceae Fructus (Northern Schisandra Fruit / Wu Wei Zi) 25%

Chinese Medical Actions
Builds qi and yin, replenishes fluids, stops excessive sweating, revitalizes the pulse.

Siler & Platycodon Formula (Fang Feng Tong Sheng San) was designed to treat excess heat simultaneously occurring in the interior and the exterior. Because it clears both deep-lying and superficial heat and includes substances that unblock all of the major pathways out of the body: it vents the upper body and releases excess heat, wind, and dampness to the exterior, it unblocks the bowel, and disinhibits urination. The two most common patterns are 1) an exterior heat pathogen that has penetrated to the interior without leaving the exterior, and 2) an exterior heat pattern that attacks where there is a preexisting internal heat pattern. The most common applications today are the resolution of heat-type influenza and acute, hot skin disorders. The formula is balanced between purgative/heat-clearing substances and exterior-releasing substances. In addition, Siler & Platycodon Formula supplements qi and blood.

Contraindications: This formula is designed for acute conditions and is contraindicated for long-term use.

Note: In respiratory disorders with no exterior heat signs, such as simultaneous chills and fever, or aversion to wind or cold, Mulberry & Lycium Formula may be a more appropriate strategy.
Six Gentlemen Formula (Liu Jun Zi Tang), also known as “Major Six Formula,” is a classical Chinese formula used to supplement the qi. It is a combination of the Four Gentleman Formula (Si Jun Zi Tang) for spleen qi deficiency with Citrus and Pinellia Formula or “Two-Cured Decoction,” a formula to dry dampness, transform phlegm and rectify the qi.

Ingredients
Codonopsis Radix (Codonopsis / Dang Shen) 19.7%
Poria (Poria, Hoelen, Tuckahoe / Fu Ling) 19.7%
Atractylodis Macrocephalae Rhizoma (White Atractylodes Rhizome/ Bai Zhu) 19.7%

Tongue: Pale, slightly swollen. Pulse: Weak, especially in the spleen position.

Contraindications: The overuse of this formula can lead to dry mouth and excessive thirst. Unless used in conjunction with another appropriate formula, this formula should not be used in cases where there is deficiency heat, high fever, or irritability, thirst, and constipation.
Stasis-Transforming Formula (Dan Shen Hua Yu Pian) is a modern formula for treating patterns of blood stasis in the lower burner. Since chronic blood stasis usually presents with qi stagnation, phlegm nodulation, heat-toxin, and/or spleen/kidney deficiency, this formula addresses each of these. Originally developed as a gynecology formula for endometriosis and dysmenorrhea, this formula may also be used for men’s health, and for any long-term blood stasis disorder.

Stomach-Harmonizing Formula (Jia Jian Bao He Wan). This modification of Harmony-Preserving Pills (Bao He Wan) is intended to treat acute upset of the digestive tract with belching, acid reflux, a full feeling in the stomach, bloating, nausea, a foul taste in the mouth, abdominal cramping, diarrhea, or constipation. Whether from overeating, poor food combining, weak digestion, or other factors such as emotional upset, acute gastric distress is often characterized by stagnation of qi and food and counterflow of stomach qi. This formula can relieve the discomfort of overeating and the stagnation of damp-heat associated with hangover from drinking too much alcohol. It is a strong formula for correcting reflux.

Tongue: Thick, with yellow coating. Pulse: Slippery, possibly rapid.

Note: For short-term use only. Once food stagnation is relieved, a formula to supplement the spleen such as Six Gentlemen Formula is usually appropriate. If this pattern recurs frequently, the root disharmony must be addressed by other formulas such as Earth-Harmonizing Formula, Bupleurum & Tang Kuei Formula, or Free & Easy Wanderer Plus.
Tang Kuei & Peony Formula (Dang Gui Shao Yao San) is a classical formula for treating liver/spleen disharmony caused by blood deficiency. It is an excellent tonic for pregnancy and postpartum, or to regulate menses. It is a balanced, mild formula that can be used long-term as a women’s tonic in cases where there is liver blood deficiency and spleen deficiency with stagnation from dampness.

Tang Kuei & Salvia Formula is an augmentation of the classical formula known as “Four-Substance Decoction” or “Tang Kuei Four,” used for building blood. Four-Substance Decoction is the primary formula used for addressing chronic blood deficiency. Polygonum has been added to nourish the blood and strengthen the liver. Salvia has been included to augment the formula’s ability to invigorate or move the blood, thereby addressing the blood stasis often found in chronic blood deficiency.

Tongue: Pale  Pulse: Thin, wiry and/or choppy.

Contraindications: Not for severe cases of blood deficiency with severe weakness, labored breathing, and diarrhea. In cases with deficiency of spleen yang with loose stools, add an appropriate formula to strengthen the spleen, such as Six Gentlemen Formula, Sea of Qi Formula or Ginseng & Astragalus Formula.
Tang Kuei & Tribulus Formula (Dang Gui Yin Zi) is from the Teachings of Zhu Dan-Xi and is ideal for skin disorders such as eczema, hives, dermatitis, and psoriasis arising from blood deficiency. Angelica (dang gui) and ligusticum (chuan xiong) nourish and invigorate the blood. Rehmannia (sheng di) cools the blood and moistens dryness. Polygonum (zhi he shou wu) and white peony (bai shao) nourish the blood, especially liver blood. Tribulus (bai ji li), schizonepeta (jing jie), and siler (fang feng) dispel wind and relieve itching. Spirodelae (fu ping) has been added to vent rashes as well as stop itching. Astragalus (huang qi) tonifies the spleen and wei (protective) qi. Licorice (gan cao) supports the qi, as well as slightly clearing heat and eliminating toxin. This formula is especially good for the elderly or physically weak persons and is suitable for long-term use.

Tongue: Pale, with a dry coating, may have red tip.
Pulse: Thin, weak, and deep.

Contraindications: DO NOT USE DURING PREGNANCY. In some cases it may be necessary initially to combine this formula with another formula to treat the root symptoms. For instance, if there is a red, itching rash due to liver qi stagnation with heat, combine with the Free & Easy Wanderer Plus. As the symptoms improve, combine with a constitutional formula such as Bupleurum & Tang Kuei Formula.
TIEH TA FORMULA

Tieh Ta Formula (Die Da Wan) is based on traditional formulas used in the martial arts for traumatic injury. It moves the qi and blood, reduces pain and swelling, and aids in the rapid resolution of many types of injury. It can be used in the first or second stage of trauma and is an excellent formula to keep in the household medicine chest.

Trauma 1 Formula (Die Da 1 Hao Fang) is for the first stage of traumatic injury. Immediately after a trauma, the site of the injury is subject to swelling, heat, and pain. Modern medicine calls this inflammation and sees it as the body’s reaction to trauma. The treatment principle for this stage of trauma is to clear heat from inflammation, reduce swelling so that healing is not hindered, relieve pain, and quicken blood movement so that stasis is minimized. This formula uses herbs such as honeysuckle (jin yin hua) to clear heat and resolve toxin, and forsythia (lian qiao) to disperse accumulation and swelling combined with agents to move blood and relieve pain. This is Chinese medicine’s approach to helping the body to get rid of damaged tissue and to rebuild the tissue injured by trauma.

Ingredients
Persicae Semen (Peach Kernel, Persica Seed / Tao Ren) 12%
Forsythiae Fructus (Forsythia / Lian Qiao) 12%
Lonicerae Flos (Japanese Honeysuckle Flower / Jin Yin Hua) 12%
Carthami Flos (Safflower, Carthamus / Hong Hua) 10%
Olibanum (Frankincense / Ru Xiang) 9%
Myrrha (Myrrh / Mo Yao) 9%
Scutellariae Radix (Chinese Skullcap, Scute / Huang Qin) 8%
Angelicae Sinensis Radix (Dong Quai Root, Tang Kuei / Dang Gui) 8%
Bupleuri Radix (Bupleurum Root / Chai Hu) 8%
Rhei Radix et Rhizoma (Chinese Rhubarb / Da Huang) 5%
Angelicae Dahuricae Radix (Purple Angelica / Bai Zhi) 4%
Glycyrrhizae Radix (Chinese Licorice Root / Gan Cao) 3%

Chinese Medical Actions
Clears heat, resolves toxin, relieves pain, moves blood, dispels stasis.

Indications
- Bruises
- Cartilage damage
- Fractures or broken bones
- Jammed fingers or toes
- Ligaments or tendons, torn
- Sprains
- Traumatic injury (first stage) with heat, swelling, and pain

Contraindications: DO NOT USE DURING PREGNANCY OR WHILE NURSING.

Note: The first stage of trauma can last from several hours to a week or so depending on the severity of the injury. As long as redness, heat, and swelling exist, one can assume that the injury is still in the first stage of recovery.
Trauma 2 Formula (Die Da 2 Hao Fang) is intended to treat the second stage of trauma. After the inflammation and swelling associated with first-stage trauma have receded, the area of the trauma experiences stasis of the blood that left the vessels at the time of the initial trauma. This, combined with congestion of fluids and qi at the site, causes stiffness and pain and sets the stage for the invasion of wind and dampness. The formula aims to dispel blood stasis, relieve pain, dispel wind and dampness, and clear any heat remaining from the body’s inflammatory response to the trauma. It can be used for any second-stage trauma when bleeding is not a factor.

True Yin Formula (Zuo Gui Jia Er Zhi Wan) is a combination of two classical Chinese formulas: Restore the Left Kidney Decoction (Zuo Gui Wan) and the Two Ultimate Pill (Er Zhi Wan). The left kidney is considered by some texts to be the root of the true or source yin. Yin energy allows us the ability to be calm, quiet, receptive, and stable. This formula is excellent for treating deficiency of yin, which arises from the demands and stresses of modern life or from excessive sexual activity. It directly supplements the yin of the liver and kidneys, the reservoir of yin for the entire body. True Yin Formula is commonly combined as a yin protector with formulas that could damage yin.

Contraindications: This formula is for cases of yin deficiency without signs of fire. In cases with fire, use Rehmannia & Scrophularia Formula instead. With spleen or stomach deficiency, supplement with an appropriate formula.
TWIN SHIELDS FORMULA

Twin Shields Formula (Shuang Dun Fang) was designed to treat mild to moderate thyroid issues. The strategy employed in this formula assumes that many mild cases and early stages of thyroid disorders are not due to true deficiency but rather localized congestion in one or both lobes of the thyroid. The theory is this: when one lobe becomes congested and begins to decline in production, the hypothalamus detects this and produces more TSH, causing the healthier lobe to make up for the production loss. This scenario can lead to an apparent hypothyroidism (and sometimes apparent hyperthyroidism) that in many cases can be completely rectified through a dual strategy of support and dredging.

Ingredients
Ginseng Radix, Dried (White Ginseng / Bai Ren Shen) 16%
Dipsaci Radix (Japanese Teasel Root, Japanese Dipsacus / Xu Duan) 16%
Salvia Miltiorrhizae Radix (Chinese Salvia Root / Dan Shen) 13%
Dendrobii Herba (Dendrobium, Chinese Orchid Stem / Shi Hu) 12%
Fritillariae Thunbergii Bulbus (Sichuan Fritillary Bulb / Zhe Bei Mu) 12%
Eckloniae Thallus (Kombu, Kelp / Kun Bu) 12%
Scutellaria Barbatae Herba (Barbed Skullcap / Ban Zhi Lian) 12%
Ostreae Concha (Oyster Shell / Mu Li) 7%

Chinese Medical Actions
Augments qi, supplements kidney and spleen, opens collaterals, invigorates blood, nourishes yin, gently clears heat, resolves phlegm, softens nodules, de congests thyroid.

Indications

| Bradycardia | Hashimoto’s disease |
| Brain fog | Lethargy |
| Cold, feelings of or sensitivity to | Memory, impaired |
| Constipation from deficiency | Mental focus, poor |
| Depression from deficiency | Muscle stiffness or aches |
| Face, puffy | Nails, thin or brittle |
| Fatigue, chronic | Skin, dry or thin |
| Goiter | TSH, elevated |
| Grave’s disease* | Weight gain |

Tongue: Normal or pale; may be slightly purple.

Pulse: Can be moderate and weak, or deep, thin and tense.

Contraindications: Do not take during acute illness or if there is excess cold in the middle burner.

Notes: 1. *When using this formula to treat Grave’s disease, it is advisable to reduce the dosage by half and use only in combination with another appropriate formula, such as, Rehmannia and Scrophularia Formula, Phlegm-Transforming Formula, or Margarita Complexion Formula.

2. Use with caution when taking for Hashimoto’s disease. Some patients with Hashimoto’s disease are believed to react to the iodine in the thallus (kun bu). When treating Hashimoto’s disease, consider combining small doses (2 tablets twice a day) of Twin Shields Formula with scrophularia (xuan shen) and forsythia (lian qiao) to manage the inflammation.

3. Dosage varies greatly among patients. Many will improve with 2 tablets three times a day, some will only need to take 2 tablets twice a day, and others may not show significant improvement if they take less than 4 tablets per dose. For hyperthyroid, combine with Baked Licorice Formula.

4. Some patients report gas and bloating when taking this formula. This is often remedied by reducing dosage for a while and then slowly building back up to the patient’s full dose. Thus, if weak digestion is part of the patient’s pattern, it is advisable to begin with smaller doses and build up.
Two Immortals Formula (Jia Jian Er Xian Tang) is a modification of the traditional formula Er Xian Tang developed to treat problems common in menopause. These problems are associated with a deficiency of the ren and chong vessels and a decline of the energy of the kidney, with a flaring up of fire. This produces such symptoms as hypertension, hot flashes, sweating, fatigue, insomnia, and emotional imbalances. Two Immortals Formula is the most popular Chinese herbal formula for generalized symptoms of menopause. It is often used as a base formula for menopause and combined with another formula to address specific symptoms.

Viola Clear Fire Formula (Di Ding Qing Huo Pian). The herbs in this formula, according to modern pharmacological and clinical research, have inhibitory effects against many viruses, bacteria, and fungi. In the years that this formula was tested clinically, it was found effective against a variety of infections, especially respiratory infections. It is safe for long-term use in the management or elimination of deep-seated or stubborn viruses such as Epstein-Barr, HIV, and herpes.

Contraindications: Do not use in the absence of heat.

Dosage: Can range according to the symptoms and the intensity. Patients on higher doses should be monitored and decrease dose as symptoms abate.

Note: Can be used safely over a long period of time. Can be combined with an appropriate tonic formula, ideally, Astragalus & Ligustrum Formula. Viola Clear Fire Formula, in combination with Minor Bupleurum Formula, has been found to be effective in the treatment of acute or chronic mononucleosis.
VITAL TREASURE FORMULA

Vital Treasure Formula (Zhen Bao Fang) is designed to support the yang aspects of male function. It is especially appropriate as men age and the yang qi naturally declines. Since the kidney is the source of all yang, the primary herbs in this formula are herbs that supplement the yang of the kidney: epimedium (yin yang huo), cuscuta (tu si zi), morinda (ba ji tian) and psoralea (bu gu zhi). Ginseng (ren shen) is used to supplement the central qi. Ophiopogon (mai men dong) and broussonetia (chu shi zi) are yin-supplementing herbs that help to prevent overheating from yang supplementation. White peony (bai shao) is used to supplement the blood and curcuma (yu jin) invigorates and cools liver blood. Rhodiola (hong jing tian) invigorates blood and has been shown to increase arterial oxygen. Asian plantain seed (che qian zi) guides excess heat out of the body though the urinary bladder. These herbs make this an excellent yang support for men while also supporting qi and yin and preventing the excessive build-up of fire.

Women’s Precious Formula (Ba Zhen Tang) is a modification of Motherwort Eight Precious Pills—motherwort (yi mu cao) plus a combination of Four Gentlemen (a qi-supplementing formula) with the Soup of Four Things (a blood-supplementing formula). Four additional herbs, useful for life in modern times, have been added: polygonum (zhi he shou wu) and mori (sang shen) to nourish essence; tangerine peel (chen pi) to move the qi and prevent the qi stagnation that can occur from taking tonic formulas; and fresh ginger (sheng jiang) to nourish the spleen and stomach and aid digestion. This formula can be used by both men and women for qi and blood deficiency. It is an effective aid in postpartum recovery.

WU HUA FORMULA

Wu Hua Formula (Wu Hua Tang) is a Chinese formula used to treat dysentery, diarrhea, gastrointestinal inflammation, intestinal parasites, or skin disorders from heat in the blood. It is also used in Asia to treat “hot qi” syndrome in children. The primary symptoms are weepy or dry eyes, sore throat, halitosis, constipation, and irritability. These symptoms may or may not be accompanied at times by sneezing, congestion, wheezing, and skin rashes. The action of this formula is strong and rapid, yet it is gentle and safe for children since it does not contain cold, bitter, downward draining herbs it will not further damage their tender yin and spleen qi. It is an excellent formula to take along while traveling in places where dysentery or gastrointestinal disorders are prevalent.

Xanthium & Magnolia Formula (Jia Wei Xin Yi San) is a modified combination of Xanthium Combination (Cang Er Zi San) and (Magnolia Flower Combination) Xin Yi San to treat severe nasal congestion with constant or copious, clear nasal discharge or post-nasal drip. Tetrapanax (tong cao) has been added to assist in guiding fluids downward. Red peony (chi shao) has been added to invigorate blood and reduce swelling. These two herbs also moderate the warmth of the other herbs in the formula. Ideally, Xanthium & Magnolia Formula should be used for a short duration due to the acrid and warm nature of the formula. It is important that the underlying constitutional issues be addressed, as these symptoms could be due to chronic deficiency of the kidney, lung, or spleen.

Xanthium Nasal Formula (Jia Wei Cang Er Pian) is a modification of Xanthium Combination (Cang Er Zi San) used for treating heat and phlegm in the upper burner and head, with congestion of the sinuses and nasal passages. This type of condition is generally acute and can be the result of either an exterior invasion or an internal disharmony. The formula centers on clearing heat and transforming dampness. Scutellaria (huang qin) clears heat in the upper burner, red peony (chi shao) cools blood and also moves blood in the nasal passages. Pueraria (ge gen) clears heat and guides the formula to the upper body. Xanthium (cang er zi), angelica (bai zhi), and magnolia (xin yi hua) dry dampness, dispel turbidity, and open the nasal passages. Mint (bo he) helps with this latter function and also clears heat pathogens that linger in the exterior. Ilex (ku ding cha) clears heat, resolves toxin, and leads the herbs to the head.

Note: For sinus headache, combine with Head Relief Formula.
Yin Chiao Formula (Yin Qiao San), also known as “Honeysuckle and Forsythia,” is a popular Chinese formula used for treating invasion by wind-heat. It is very effective when taken at the onset of common cold or flu and in cases where the patient has a sore throat, fever, or signs of external heat. Yin Chiao Formula was originally developed to treat chicken pox and can be used to treat acute viral infections that include skin lesions.

YIN VALLEY FORMULA

Yin Valley Formula (Yin Gu Fang) treats a variety of gynecological conditions presenting with yin deficiency, dryness, and heat, including cervical dysplasia, vaginal irritation or discharge, and abnormal uterine bleeding. Ophiopogon (mai men dong), lycium (gou qi zi), and polygonatum (yu zhu) moisten and nourish the liver and kidney yin. Eclipta (han lian cao) cools, nourishes yin, and stops bleeding. Pseudostellaria (tai zi shen) strengthens the spleen and generates fluids. Solanum (long kui), phellodendron (huang bai), honeysuckle (jin yin hua), sargentodoxa (hong teng), and oldenlandia (bai hua she she cao) clear heat and toxin, and are effective in treating the human papillomavirus (HPV) infection that is often associated with cervical cancer. Solanum (long kui) and oldenlandia (bai hua she she cao) are anti-neoplastic herbs, as is zedoary (e zhu), which is also used to invigorate and enliven where dryness and congestion have led to poor blood circulation and unhealthy tissues.

Ingredients
Solani Nigri Herba (Black Nightshade / Long Kui) 12%
Pseudostellariae Radix (Pseudostellaria Root / Tai Zi Shen) 11%
Hedyotis Diffusae Herba (Hedyotis, Oldenlandia / Bai Hua She She Cao) 11%
Ophiopogonis Radix (Ophiopogon Tuber / Mai Men Dong) 10%
Lonicerae Flos (Japanese Honeysuckle Flower / Jin Yin Hua) 10%
Polygonati Odorati Rhizoma (Aromatic Solomon’s Seal / Yu Zhu) 9%
Phellodendri Cortex (Phellodendron Bark / Huang Bai) 9%
Lycii Fructus (Lycium Fruit, Chinese Wolfberry / Gou Qi Zi) 9%
Ecliptae Herba (Eclipta / Han Lian Cao) 8%
Sargentodoxae Caulis (Sargentodoxa / Hong Teng) 6%
Curcumae Rhizoma (Zedoary Rhizome / E Zhu) 5%

Chinese Medical Actions
Nourishes liver and kidney yin, clears heat and toxin in the lower burner, cools heat in the blood, invigorates blood to remove stasis.

Contraindications: DO NOT USE DURING PREGNANCY. Not to be used when there are cold signs or yang deficiency. In cases with damp-heat, use Immortal Valley Formula instead.

Note: In the treatment of cervical dysplasia, this formula should be taken along with Rehmannia & Scrophularia Formula when there is kidney yin deficiency with empty heat signs, or with True Yin Formula for yin deficiency without empty heat. In cases where there is concern for the development of cervical cancer, Five Mushroom Formula may be added for further immune support.
Yuan Support Formula (Jia Wei Jian Gu Tang) includes codonopsis (dang shen), white atractylodes (bai zhu), poria (fu ling), and Chinese yam (shan yao) to supplement and invigorate spleen qi, as well as cuscuta (tu si zi), dipsacus (xu duan), and eucommia (du zhong) to support the yang. When supporting the menstrual cycle by phases, it is appropriate to support the qi and yang in the luteal phase, as these substances are dominant in the second half of the cycle. Dang gui, white peony (bai shao), and lycium (gou qi zi) nourish the blood to provide a strong foundation for the yang. Bupleurum (chai hu) moves stagnant liver qi and polygonum vine (ye jiao teng) nourishes and calms the heart spirit. Yuan Support Formula is useful for infertility with deficient qi and yang, as well as for lumbar weakness with concurrent qi and blood deficiency. It has also been used successfully for support during menopause.

Ingredients
Polygoni Multiflori Caulis (Fo-Ti Stem, Fleeceflower Stem / Ye Jiao Teng) 10%
Dioscoreae Rhizoma (Chinese Yam / Shan Yao) 10%
Cuscutae Semen (Chinese Dodder Seed, Chinese Cuscuta / Tu Si Zi) 10%
Angelicae Sinensis Radix (Dong Quai Root, Tang Kuei / Dang Gui) 9%
Dipsaci Radix (Japanese Teasel Root, Japanese Dipsacus / Xu Duan) 9%
Paeoniae Radix, alba (Chinese Peony, white / Bai Shao) 9%
Codonopsis Radix (Codonopsis / Dang Shen) 8%
Atractylodis Macrocephalae Rhizoma (White Atractylodes Rhizome / Bai Zhu) 8%
Poria (Poria, Hoelen, Tuckahoe / Fu Ling) 8%
Eucommiae Cortex (Eucommia Bark / Du Zhong) 7%
Lycii Fructus (Lycium Fruit, Chinese Wolfberry / Gou Qi Zi) 6%
Bupleuri Radix (Bupleurum Root / Chai Hu) 6%

Chinese Medical Actions
Supplements spleen qi and kidney yang, nourishes blood, moves liver qi stagnation, nourishes and calms spirit.

Indications
| Abdomen, lower, cold | Infertility, w/deficient qi and yang |
| Anemia | Libido, low |
| Back weakness, lower | Low back, pain and weakness |
| Basal body temperature, drops in luteal phase | Luteal phase insufficiency |
| Cold, whole body | Miscarriage, early recurrent |
| Endometrium, too thin | Postpartum weakness |
| Fatigue | Progesterone, low |
| Hypotension | Spotting, prior to menses |
| | Weight gain, easy |

Tongue: Pale, may be swollen or with teeth marks.
Pulse: Empty, weak, especially in spleen and kidney positions.

Note: Use with Bupleurum & Tang Kuei Formula as needed for significant premenstrual liver qi stagnation.
Zhong Gan Ling Formula (Zhong Gan Ling Pian) is a Chinese prepared formula for common cold or flu, with fever from wind-heat. Isatis (da qing ye) and oldenlandia (bai hua she she cao) have been added to augment the formula’s ability to clear heat-toxin. Since pueraria (ge gen) leads the action of the formula to the head, Zhong Gan Ling Formula is especially useful when wind-heat affects the taiyang zone of the head.

Ingredients

Ilicis Pubescentis Radix (Pubescent Holly Root, Ilex / Mao Dong Qing) 19.6%
Puerariae Radix (Kudzu Root / Ge Gen) 19.6%
Isatidis Folium (Isatis Leaf, Indigo Woad Leaf / Da Qing Ye) 14.6%
Verbenae Herba (Verbena / Ma Bian Cao) 13%
Hedyotis Diffusae Herba (Hedyotis, Oldenlandia / Bai Hua She She Cao) 13%
Isatidis seu Baphicacanthis Radix (Isatis Root / Ban Lan Gen) 10.1%
Artemisiae Annuae Herba (Sweet Wormwood / Qing Hao) 5%
Gypsum Fibrosum (Gypsum / Shi Gao) 2.9%
Notopterygii Rhizoma seu Radix (Notopterygium / Qiang Huo) 2.2%

Chinese Medical Actions

Drains heat, relieves toxicity, cools blood, unblocks collaterals, releases the muscle layer, dredges lymph nodes, benefits throat.

Tongue: Red, or red tip. Pulse: Rapid, forceful, and superficial.

Contraindications: Do not use in cases where patient is cold or experiencing strong chills.

Dosage: Can range according to the symptoms and the intensity. Can be taken up to every two hours, in the acute phase of infection.
ZIZYPHUS FORMULA

Zizyphus Formula (Suan Zao Ren Tang) is a classical formula for irritability and insomnia caused by deficiency heat from deficient liver, heart blood, and yin. Schisandra (wu wei zi) was added for night sweats and to further calm the spirit. It is an effective formula for insomnia due to deficiency and aging.

Ingredients
Ziziphi Spinosa Semen (Sour Date Seed, Jujube Seed / Suan Zao Ren) 39.3%
Poriae Sclerotium Pararadicis (Poria Spirit / Fu Shen) 17.6%
Schisandrae Fructus (Northern Schisandra Fruit / Wu Wei Zi) 17.6%
Anemarrhenae Rhizoma (Anemarrhena Rhizome / Zhi Mu) 11.8%
Chuanxiong Rhizoma (Ligusticum Wallichii Rhizome / Chuan Xiong) 7.8%
Glycyrrhizae Radix (Chinese Licorice Root / Gan Cao) 5.9%

Chinese Medical Actions
Nourishes heart yin and liver blood, calms shen, soothes irritability, aids sleep.

Pinellia & Magnolia Bark Formula (with constrained qi and phlegm)

THROAT, SORE

Andrographis Formula (with heat-toxin)
Children’s Clear & Release Formula (with heat-toxin)
Coptis Relieve Toxicity Formula (with heat or fire)
Eight Immortals Formula (dry, with lung, kidney, and stomach yin deficiency)
Fritillaria & Pinellia Formula (with lung heat or phlegm-heat)
Gan Mao Ling Formula (from wind-heat)
Heavenly Emperor’s Formula (with heart and kidney yin deficiency fire)
Jade Screen & Xanthium Formula (from allergies)
Lily Preserve Metal Formula (and dry, with lung yin deficiency)
Minor Bupleurum Formula (with shaoyang stage disorders)
Oregano Oil Formula (anti-microbial)
Pu Ji Formula (with heat-toxin and external wind)
Rehmannia & Scrophularia Formula (or dry, with kidney yin deficiency heat)
Rehmannia Cool Blood Formula (and dry, with heat in the blood)
True Yin Formula (and dry, with kidney and liver yin deficiency)
Viola Clear Fire Formula (with heat-toxin)
Yin Chiao Formula (from wind-heat)
Zhong Gan Ling Formula (from wind-heat)

THYROID TUMORS, BENIGN

Phlegm-Transforming Formula (with phlegm accumulation, deficiency, and qi or blood stasis)

TIDAL FEVER (See FEVER)

TINNITUS (See RINGING IN THE EAR)

TIREDNESS (See FATIGUE)

TONSILLITIS

Andrographis Formula (with heat-toxin)
Coptis Relieve Toxicity Formula (with heat or fire)
Gan Mao Ling Formula (with wind-heat)
Gentiana Drain Fire Formula (from liver fire)
Minor Bupleurum Formula (shaoyang stage)
Pu Ji Formula (with heat-toxin and external wind)
Viola Clear Fire Formula (with heat-toxin)
Yin Chiao Formula (with wind-heat)
Zhong Gan Ling Formula (with severe wind-heat)

TOOTHACHE
Coptis Relieve Toxicity Formula (with heat or fire)
Corydalis Formula (for pain)
Head Relief Formula (from wind-cold, muscle tension, or trauma)
Rehmannia Six Formula (with kidney and liver yin deficiency fire)

TOXEMIA OF PREGNANCY (PRE-ECLAMPSIA)
Poria Five Formula (with retention of fluids)
Tang Kuei & Peony Formula (with liver blood and spleen deficiency and dampness)

TOXICITY, FEELING OF
Coptis Relieve Toxicity Formula (with heat or fire, damp-heat or heat in blood)
Free & Easy Wanderer Plus (with liver qi stagnation and heat)
Hawthorn & Fennel Formula (with obesity, phlegm, and food stagnation)
Ji Xue Formula (with qi and blood deficiency and stagnation, heat-toxin, and dampness)
Poria Fifteen Formula (with obesity, phlegm, and food stagnation)
Resolve the Middle Formula (with damp turbidity and stagnation in the middle burner)
Siler & Platycodon Formula (for wind-heat with heat in the interior)

TRAUMATIC INJURY
Bone & Sinew Formula (second and third stage trauma)
Chase Wind, Penetrate Bone Formula (chronic stage, with wind-cold and wind-damp, with qi and blood stasis)
Curcuma Longa Formula (inflammation, with qi and blood stasis and heat)
San Qi Formula (controls bleeding)
Tieh Ta Formula (acute stage)
Trauma 1 Formula (first stage trauma, with swelling, heat, and pain)
Trauma 2 Formula (second stage trauma, with stagnation, stiffness, and pain)

TSH ELEVATED
Twin Shields Formula

TUBERCULOSIS, PULMONARY
Bupleurum & Cinnamon Formula (with concurrent taiyang and shaoyang patterns)
Eight Immortals Formula (with lung, kidney, and stomach yin deficiency)
Mulberry & Lycium Formula (with lung heat or fire)
Yin Transition Formula (sweating from, with deficient kidney qi, yin, and jing)

U

ULCER
Astragalus Formula (gastric, peptic or duodenal, with cold and deficiency in the middle burner)
Bupleurum & Cinnamon Formula (gastric or duodenal, from liver/spleen disharmony with mixed signs of heat and cold)
Bupleurum & Tang Kuei Formula (peptic, with liver/spleen disharmony)
Bupleurum D Formula (pre-ulcer, with liver qi stagnation, and liver invading stomach)
Coptis Relieve Toxicity Formula (with heat or fire)
Ease Digestion Formula (acute symptoms)
Linking Formula (with yin deficiency, qi stagnation, and heat)
Minor Bupleurum Formula (with shaoyang stage patterns)
Oregano Oil Formula (for helicobacter pylori)
Peony & Atractylodes Formula (with spleen qi deficiency, dampness, and liver qi stagnation)
Poria & Bamboo Formula (with stomach-gallbladder disharmony, phlegm-heat and stagnation)
San Qi Formula (controls bleeding)
Tang Kuei & Peony Formula (with blood and spleen deficiency and liver/spleen disharmony)

UPPER RESPIRATORY INFECTION (See RESPIRATORY INFECTION)

URINARY BLADDER PAIN
Corydalis Formula (analgesic)

URINARY INCONTINENCE
Essential Yang Formula (with kidney yang deficiency)
Nourish Essence Formula (with kidney yin and yang deficiency, liver yin deficiency)
Sea of Qi Formula (with spleen yang and kidney yang deficiency)

URINARY RETENTION
Essential Yang Formula (with kidney yang deficiency)
Hawthorn & Fennel Formula (with obesity)
Polyporus & Dianthus Formula (with heat in the interior, or damp-heat)
Poria Fifteen Formula (with obesity)
Poria Five Formula (with retention of fluids)
Rehmannia & Scrophularia Formula (with kidney yin deficiency heat)
Rehmannia Six Formula (with kidney and liver yin deficiency fire)

URINARY TRACT INFECTION
Amber Stone-Transforming Formula (from bladder or kidney stones)
Andrographis Formula (with heat-toxin)
Coptis Relieve Toxicity Formula (with heat or fire)
Essential Yang Formula (chronic, with kidney yang deficiency)
Four Marvel Formula (with dampness and heat in the lower burner)
Gentiana Drain Fire Formula (acute, damp-heat)
Polyporus & Dianthus Formula (with heat in the interior, or damp-heat)
Rehmannia & Scrophularia Formula (with kidney yin deficiency heat)
Rehmannia Six Formula (with kidney and liver yin deficiency fire)
Two Immortals Formula (chronic, with kidney yin and yang deficiency, and flaring-up of fire)
Viola Clear Fire Formula (with heat-toxin)

URINATION, DIFFICULT
Bupleurum D Formula (with liver qi stagnation and cold in the lower burner)
Eleuthero Tablets (with stress, kidney and spleen deficiency, and stagnation)
Essential Yang Formula (with kidney yang deficiency)
FREE & EASY WANDERER PLUS (with liver qi stagnation and heat)
HAWTHORN & FENNEL FORMULA (with obesity)
LUO BU MA FORMULA (with liver heat or fire and dampness or phlegm)
POLYPOOUS & DIANTHUS FORMULA (dark, hot, with heat in the interior or damp-heat)
PORIA FIFTEEN FORMULA (with obesity)
PORIA FIVE FORMULA (with retention of fluids)
PROSTATE FORMULA (with prostate symptoms)
REHMANNIA & SCROPHULARIA FORMULA (with kidney yin deficiency heat)
REHMANNIA COOL BLOOD FORMULA (scanty, yellow, with heat in the blood)
SILER & PLATYCODON FORMULA (for wind-heat with heat in the interior)
TANG KUEI & PEONY FORMULA (with liver blood and spleen deficiency and dampness)

URINATION, EXCESSIVE OR FREQUENT
ESSENTIAL YANG FORMULA (with kidney yang deficiency)
JADE SOURCE FORMULA (with yin deficiency fire and deficient fluids)
NOURISH ESSENCE FORMULA (with kidney yin and yang deficiency, liver yin deficiency)
PROSTATE FORMULA (with prostate symptoms)
SEA OF QI FORMULA (with spleen yang and kidney yang deficiency)
TWO IMMORTALS FORMULA (with kidney yin and yang deficiency, and flaring-up of fire)

URINATION, NOCTURNAL
ESSENTIAL YANG FORMULA (with kidney yang deficiency)
NOURISH ESSENCE FORMULA (with kidney yin and yang deficiency, liver yin deficiency)
PROSTATE FORMULA (with prostate symptoms)
SEA OF QI FORMULA (with spleen yang and kidney yang deficiency)

URINATION, PAIN WITH (See also URINARY TRACT INFECTION)
AMBER STONE-TRANSFORMING FORMULA (from bladder or kidney stones)
CORYDALIS FORMULA (for pain and spasms)

URTICARIA (See HIVES)

UTERINE BLEEDING, DYSFUNCTIONAL
BUPLEURUM & TANG KUEI FORMULA (with liver qi stagnation, liver blood and yin deficiency)
CHONG RELEASE FORMULA (with blood deficiency and stagnation)
CINNAMON & PORIA FORMULA (with blood stasis)
GENERAL TONIC FORMULA (with qi and blood deficiency, and internal cold)
GINSENG & ASTRAGALUS FORMULA (with spleen and stomach qi deficiency)
GINSENG & LONGAN FORMULA (with spleen qi, heart qi, and blood deficiency)
IMMORTAL VALLEY FORMULA (with dampness, heat, and blood stasis in lower abdomen)
PHLEGM-TRANSFORMING FORMULA (with phlegm accumulation, deficiency, and qi or blood stasis)
POLYPOUS & DIANTHUS FORMULA (with heat in the interior or damp-heat)
SAN QI FORMULA (stops bleeding)
STASIS-TRANSFORMING FORMULA (with qi and blood stasis, and damp-heat)
TANG KUEI & SALVIA FORMULA (with blood deficiency and stagnation)
WOMEN’S PRECIOUS FORMULA (with qi and blood deficiency)
UTERINE FIBROIDS

Cinnamon & Poria Formula (with blood stasis)
Phlegm-Transforming Formula (with phlegm accumulation, deficiency, and qi or blood stasis)
Stasis-Transforming Formula (with qi and blood stasis, and damp-heat)

VAGINAL DISCHARGE

AsTragalus Formula (clear or white, with cold and deficiency of middle burner)
BuPleurum & Tang Kuei Formula (white, with liver qi stagnation)
Coptis Relieve Toxicity Formula (with heat or fire)
Four Marvel Formula (with dampness and heat in the lower burner)
Free & Easy Wanderer Plus (yellowish, with liver qi stagnation and heat)
Ginseng & AsTragalus Formula (with spleen and stomach qi deficiency)
Ginseng & Longan Formula (with spleen qi, heart qi, and blood deficiency)
Gentiana Drain Fire Formula (yellowish and/or foul-smelling, with damp-heat)
Immortal Valley Formula (with dampness, heat, and blood stasis in lower abdomen)
Rejuvenation Formula (white, with kidney and spleen qi deficiency, and deficiency of yin, blood, and yang)
Sea of Qi Formula (clear or white, with spleen yang and kidney yang deficiency)
Seven Treasures Formula (profuse, white, or clear, with deficient jing and kidney and liver yin, and deficient blood)
Tang Kuei & Peony Formula (with liver blood and spleen deficiency, and dampness)
Women’s Precious Formula (with qi and blood deficiency)
Yin Valley Formula (with yin deficiency dryness, heat, and blood stasis)

VAGINAL YEAST INFECTIONS (See YEAST INFECTION)

VAGINITIS, NON-SPECIFIC

Four Marvel Formula (with dampness and heat in the lower burner)
Gentiana Drain Fire Formula (with damp-heat in liver)
Immortal Valley Formula (with dampness, heat, and blood stasis in lower abdomen)
Yin Valley Formula (with yin deficiency dryness, heat, and blood stasis)

VERTEBRAL SUBLUXATION

BuPleurum & Cinnamon Formula (with shaoyang patterns)

VERTIGO (See DIZZINESS)

VISION, BLURRED

Gastrodia & Uncaria Formula (with liver yang rising and liver wind)
He Shou Wu Tablets (with deficient blood, and kidney/liver yin deficiency)
Jing Qi Formula (with kidney, liver yin, and spleen qi deficiency, and liver qi stagnation)
Ming Mu Formula (liver and kidney deficiency with liver heat or internal wind)
Minor BuPleurum Formula (with shaoyang patterns)
Rehmannia Six Formula (with kidney and liver yin deficiency)
Tang Kuei & Salvia Formula (with blood deficiency)
True Yin Formula (with kidney and liver yin deficiency)
Zizyphus Formula (with liver and heart blood and yin deficiency)
VISION, SPOTS IN BLOOD

Blood Palace Formula (with blood stasis in upper body)

He Shou Wu Tablets (with deficient blood, and kidney/liver yin deficiency)

Ming Mu Formula (liver and kidney deficiency, with liver heat or internal wind)

Tang Kuei & Salvia Formula (with blood deficiency)

True Yin Formula (with kidney and liver yin deficiency)

Women’s Precious Formula (with qi and blood deficiency)

VISUAL ACUITY, DECREASED

Jing Qi Formula (with kidney, liver yin and spleen qi deficiency, and constrained liver qi)

Ming Mu Formula (liver and kidney deficiency, with liver heat or internal wind)

Rejuvenation Formula (with kidney and spleen qi deficiency, and deficiency of yin, blood, and yang)

VOMITING

Agastache Tummy Syrup (with cold and dampness)

Bupleurum & Cinnamon Formula (with liver/spleen disharmony or concurrent taiyang and shaoyang patterns)

Chai Hu Shu Gan Formula (from liver qi stagnation)

Citrus & Pinellia Formula (with phlegm-damp)

Coptis Relieve Toxicity Formula (with heat or fire)

Ease Digestion Formula (from wind, damp, stomach phlegm, or food stagnation)

Free & Easy Wanderer Plus (with liver/spleen disharmony, and heat)

Ji Xue Formula (from chemotherapy, with qi and blood deficiency and stagnation, heat-toxin, and dampness)

Linking Formula (of sour fluid, with yin deficiency, qi stagnation, and heat)

Lysimachia GB Formula (with damp-heat and constrained qi in the liver and gallbladder)

Minor Bupleurum Formula (with shaoyang stage patterns)

Pinellia & Magnolia Bark Formula (with qi stagnation in stomach)

Poria Five Formula (immediately after drinking or with retention of fluids)

Poria & Bamboo Formula (with stomach-gallbladder disharmony, phlegm-heat and stagnation)

Resolve the Middle Formula (with damp turbidity and stagnation in the middle burner)

Shu Gan Formula (acute, with liver qi stagnation and phlegm)

Six Gentlemen Formula (with spleen and stomach qi deficiency, and phlegm or dampness)

Stomach-Harmonizing Formula (with food stagnation and heat)

VOMITING BLOOD

Coptis Relieve Toxicity Formula (with heat or fire)

Rehmannia Cool Blood Formula (with heat in the blood)

San Qi Formula (controls bleeding)

VULVAR ITCHING (See GENITAL ITCHING)
WALKING, DIFFICULTY
- Course & Quicken Formula (with wind-dampness and blood stasis)
- Du Huo & Loranthus Formula (with kidney and liver deficiency)
- Ji Xue Formula (from neuropathy, with qi and blood deficiency and stagnation, heat-toxin, and dampness)

WARTS
- Silier & Platycodon Formula (for wind-heat with heat in the interior)

WATER RETENTION (See EDEMA)

WEAKNESS, GENERALIZED OR AFTER SURGERY OR ILLNESS
- Astragalus & Ligustrum Formula (to support normal qi)
- Astragalus Formula (with cold and deficiency in the middle burner)
- Eleuthero Tablets (with stress, kidney and spleen deficiency, and stagnation)
- Essential Yang Formula (with kidney yang deficiency)
- Five Mushroom Formula (general tonic for lung, kidney, liver, spleen, and immune system)
- General Tonic Formula (with qi and blood deficiency, and internal cold)
- Ginseng & Astragalus Formula (with spleen and stomach qi deficiency)
- Ginseng & Longan Formula (with spleen qi, heart qi, and blood deficiency)
- Ginseng Endurance Formula (with qi, blood, and yang deficiency)
- Ginseng Nourishing Formula (chronic, with qi and blood deficiency, and emotional symptoms)
- He Shou Wu Tablets (with deficient blood, and kidney/liver yin deficiency)
- Ji Xue Formula (with qi and blood deficiency and stagnation, heat-toxin, and dampness)
- Jing Qi Formula (with kidney, liver yin, and spleen qi deficiency, and liver qi stagnation)
- Nourish Essence Formula (with kidney yin and yang deficiency, liver yin deficiency)
- Sea of Qi Formula (with spleen yang and kidney yang deficiency)
- Sheng Mai Formula (with lung qi or yin deficiency or with injury to yin from summer heat)
- Tang Kuei & Peony Formula (during pregnancy, with blood and spleen deficiency and dampness)
- Tang Kuei & Salvia Formula (with blood deficiency and stagnation)
- Women’s Precious Formula (with qi and blood deficiency)

WEIGHT GAIN (See OBESITY)

WEIGHT LOSS, UNINTENDED OR ABNORMAL
- Baked Licorice Formula (with qi, blood, and yin deficiency)
- Ginseng & Astragalus Formula (with spleen and stomach qi deficiency)
- Ginseng Nourishing Formula (with qi and blood deficiency and emotional symptoms)
- Jade Source Formula (with yin deficiency fire and deficient fluids)
- Rejuvenation Formula (white, with kidney and spleen qi deficiency, and deficiency of yin, blood, and yang)
- Salvia Ten Formula (with depression)
WHEEZING (See also ASTHMA)

Five Mushroom Formula (general tonic for lung, kidney, liver, spleen, and immune system)

Lily Preserve Metal Formula (with lung yin deficiency)

Ling Zhi Lung Formula (for kidneys not grasping lung qi, with phlegm)

Mulberry & Lycium Formula (with lung heat or fire)

Pinellia & Magnolia Bark Formula (with constrained qi and phlegm)

Restore the Lung Formula (with lung qi deficiency)

WHOOPING COUGH (See PERTUSSIS)

WORMS

Oregano Oil Formula

YEAST INFECTION

Gentiana Drain Fire Formula (vaginal)

Intestinal Fungus Formula (intestinal)

Oregano Oil Formula (vaginal or intestinal)

GLOSSARY OF CHINESE MEDICAL TERMS USED

BLOOD DEFICIENCY—Clinical manifestations include: pale or sallow complexion, pale lips, dizziness, poor memory, dry eyes, blurring of vision, poor night vision, palpitations, insomnia, numbness of hands and feet, absent or scanty menstruation, a pale tongue and thready pulse.

BLOOD STASIS OR STAGNATION—Manifests in symptoms such as fixed, boring or stabbing pain, mass tumors which do not move, hemorrhage with dark blood and clots, purple lips and nails, purple blotches or bruises on skin, purple tongue and wiry, choppy or knotted pulse.

CHONG CHANNEL—Also called the Penetrating Vessel. Has a regulating effect on all twelve regular channels and regulates menstruation. Symptoms of this channel include menstrual irregularities, miscarriage, uterine bleeding, insufficient lactation, lower abdominal pain, and in men, seminal emission, impotence, prostatitis.

COLD—Caused by cold pathogenic factor or diminished vital function. Marked by intolerance of cold, fondness for warmth, loose bowels, pale tongue with white coating, slow pulse, etc.

COLD IN THE MIDDLE BURNER—Usually refers to cold in the spleen and stomach. Marked by cold and pain over the stomach, anorexia, abdominal fullness, belching, vomiting thin fluid, diarrhea, lassitude and cold limbs.

CONSTRAINED HEAT—Refers to heat generated by a heat pathogen that is lodged in a specific tissue. Clearing/draining actions are usually not enough. Constrained heat requires substances that disperse heat.

CONSTRAINED LIVER—(See LIVER QI STAGNATION)

DAMPNESS—Caused externally by damp pathogenic factor or internally by a dysfunction of the lung, spleen and/or kidney in promoting water circulation and distribution. Symptoms include heaviness in the limbs, headache as if the head were tightly bound, fullness in the chest, joint pains and swelling, diarrhea, abdominal fullness, sallow face, edema of the lower limbs, turbid discharges, etc.

DAMP-HEAT—A combination of dampness and heat, which produces varying symptoms depending on the part of the body affected. Symptoms include loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, bitter taste and stickiness in the mouth, heaviness of the body and limbs, fullness of the chest, lassitude, jaundice, loose stools or diarrhea with blood or mucus, offensive odor of stools, burning in anus, abdominal pain and distension, eczema, swelling and burning pain in the testes, yellow foul-smelling leukorrhea, scanty yellow urine, frequency and/or urgency of urination, burning pain in the urethra, dribbling urination, turbid, deep yellow urine, red tongue with a sticky, yellow coating, and a rapid and slippery pulse.

DEFICIENCY—A general term referring to deficiency of vital energy and lowered body resistance. Some deficiency symptoms include: emaciation, listlessness, lassitude, shortness of breath, pallor, insomnia, poor memory, spontaneous and night sweating, nocturnal enuresis, pain alleviated by pressure, pale tongue, and a weak and thready pulse.

DEFICIENCY HEAT OR FIRE—Caused by a deficiency of yin; symptoms include afternoon or low grade fever, malar flush, dry mouth, insomnia with mental restlessness, anxiety, feverish sensations in the palms and soles, night sweats, constipation, concentrated urine, etc., red tongue with little coating, and a rapid, thready, and/or empty pulse.
DISPERSION—The action of scattering a concentration of a pathogen or dislodging the pathogen so it can be cleared out.

DISTURBED OR UNSTABLE SHEN—Shen is translated as “spirit.” It refers to the mind, consciousness, the force of the personality, and the connection to the spiritual aspects of humanness. When shen is disturbed or unstable, symptoms arise such as insomnia, unclear or muddled thinking, poor memory, restlessness, hysteria, incoherent speech, delirium, mania.

DRYNESS—One of the six pathogenic factors which prevails in autumn or in dry climates. Dryness causes consumption of body fluids with symptoms such as red eyes, dry nose and throat, dry cough, dry skin, constipation, reduced urination, etc. Also an internal condition caused by impairment of yin.

ENCUMBRANCE—Refers to an accumulation, usually of dampness, damp-heat, or phlegm, which restricts the normal functioning of an organ.

EXTERIOR (See also INTERIOR)—Refers to the depth of disease. Exterior syndromes are caused by invasion of the six pathogenic factors, which first attack the superficial portions of the body. In general, these syndromes are of sudden onset and short duration. Chief symptoms include intolerance to cold or wind, fever, headache, nasal obstruction, and superficial pulse.

ESSENCE (also known as “Jing”)—Refers to the combination of the energy which makes up a person’s inherited constitution and the energy derived from food. It resides mostly in the kidneys and is the basis of growth, reproduction, and development. It is also the source of kidney qi and of constitutional strength. Deficiency of essence results in variety of symptoms such as stunted growth, poor bone development or bone deterioration, infertility, habitual miscarriage, loose teeth, hair falling out or prematurely graying, poor sexual function, impotence, weakness of knees, ringing in the ears, poor memory, poor concentration, dizziness, lowered body resistance, and chronic allergies.

FIRE—A severe form of internal heat. Fire is always associated with a specific organ (e.g., heart/pericardium, liver/gallbladder, lung, stomach, or spleen) and always flares upward. Manifestations include: high fever, restlessness, insomnia, mania, delirium, thirst, sweating, mouth and tongue ulcers, swollen and painful gums, headache, congestion of the eyes.

FOOD STAGNATION—Symptom pattern includes: stomach pain and distension, loss of appetite, foul belching, acid regurgitation, vomiting. Tongue may have a thick, sticky coating.

HEART BLOOD DEFICIENCY—Symptom pattern includes: palpitations, giddiness, pallor, insomnia, forgetfulness, pale, thin tongue and a fine and weak pulse.

HEART QI DEFICIENCY—Symptom pattern includes: palpitations, shortness of breath on exertion, spontaneous sweating, pale, thin tongue, and a fine, weak or irregular pulse.

HEART YIN DEFICIENCY—Symptom pattern includes: mental irritability, palpitations, insomnia, low fever, night sweats, flushed cheeks, thirst, dry, red tongue, and a fine, rapid pulse.

HEAT—Caused by pathogenic heat or by excessive vital function. Marked by feverishness, flushed face, thirst, craving for cold drinks, constipation, red tongue with yellow coating, rapid pulse.

HEAT IN THE BLOOD—Marked by restlessness or mania, feeling of heat, skin diseases with red eruptions, ecchymosis, mouth ulcers, itching, excessive menstrual bleeding, hemorrhage, dry mouth, red tongue, rapid pulse.

HEAT-TOXIN—Refers to toxic heat generated by viral or bacterial infection.

INTERIOR (See also EXTERIOR)—Refers to the depth of the disease. Interior syndromes are mostly severe or chronic and deep. In interior diseases the pathogenic factors are on the interior of the body and attack the organs.

JING (See ESSENCE)

KIDNEY YANG DEFICIENCY—Symptom pattern includes: pallor, lassitude, aversion to cold, cold limbs, soreness and weakness of the lumbar region and knee joints, nocturnal urination, impotence, infertility, dizziness, ringing in the ears, a pale tongue with white coating, and a deep, weak pulse.

KIDNEY YIN DEFICIENCY—Symptom pattern includes: low back pain, weak knees, lassitude, general weakness, vertigo, ringing in the ears, thirst, flushed cheeks, insomnia, mental irritability, afternoon fever, night sweats, hot flashes, nocturnal emissions, yellow urine, constipation, red tongue with little coating, and a thready, rapid pulse.

LARGE INTESTINE DAMP-HEAT—When damp-heat invades the large intestine there is hot, foul smelling diarrhea that may also contain blood and/or mucus. It is an acute condition usually arising from contaminated food or water.

LIVER BLOOD DEFICIENCY—Symptom pattern includes: sallow face, blurring of vision, dry eyes, spasms of muscles and tendons, dizziness, mental irritability, insomnia, absent or scanty menstruation, prolonged menstrual cycle, pale tongue or lips, and a thready or choppy pulse.

LIVER FIRE—Symptom pattern includes: dizziness, headache, flushed face, red eyes, bitter taste in the mouth, mental irritability, anger outbursts. In severe cases symptoms include: mania, nosebleed, blood in the urine, or coughing blood, a scarlet red tongue on tip and sides, with yellow coating, and a wiry and rapid pulse.

LIVER HEAT—Marked by mental irritability, bitter taste in mouth, thirst, etc. Similar to Fire but not as severe.

LIVER QI STAGNATION—Clinical manifestations include: irritability, tendency to anger, dizziness, abdominal and hypochondriac pain and distension, fullness in chest, excessive sighing, breast distension, belching, loss of appetite, nausea, sensation of a foreign body in throat, menstrual disorders, and a wiry pulse.

LIVER/SPLEEN DISHARMONY—Symptom pattern includes: abdominal pain and distension, diarrhea or loose stools, belching, vomiting, acid regurgitation.

LIVER WIND—Usually resulting from liver fire or deficient blood, symptoms include: dizziness and vertigo, convulsions, tremors, spasms and numbness.

LIVER YANG RISING—Clinical manifestations include: headache with distending sensation in the head, dizziness and vertigo, ringing in the ears, flushed face, red eyes, irritability, insomnia with dream-disturbed sleep, palpitations, poor memory, red tongue, and a tight and rapid pulse.

LIVER YIN DEFICIENCY—Symptom pattern includes: dizziness, headache, ringing in the ears, blurred vision, dry eyes, insomnia, night sweats, feverishness in palms and soles, thirst, dry throat, red tongue with little coating, and a thready and taut pulse.

LUNG HEAT—Marked by cough with thick or yellow phlegm, pain in the chest, and shortness of breath.
LUNG QI DEFICIENCY—Often manifests as chronic weakness in the lungs with weak cough, weak voice, and is often associated with a low immune system. Lung qi deficiency can be congenital, the result of long-term or severe illness that has taxed the qi, or it can be part of a generalized qi deficiency.

LUNG YIN DEFICIENCY—Clinical manifestations include symptoms such as: dry or blood tinged cough, or cough with a small amount of sticky sputum, dryness of the mouth and throat, afternoon fever, malar flush, night sweats, feverishness in palms and soles, red tongue with little coating, and a thready and rapid pulse.

MIDDLE QI DEFICIENCY (Also called Deficiency of the Middle Burner)—Refers to deficiency of qi of the spleen and stomach, resulting in hypo-function of those organs, digestive disorders, weakness etc. (See also SPLEEN AND STOMACH QI DEFICIENCY)

NORMAL QI—Body energy made up of qi inherited from parents, qi from food, and qi from air. Responsible for the movement, functioning and warmth of the body, and for protection from disease.

PAINFUL OBSTRUCTION—Obstruction of vital energy and blood flow, usually bringing on pains, specifically arthritis; due to wind, cold, and dampness blocking the channels of the limbs.

PATHOGENIC FACTORS—The causes of disease. Pathogenic factors include wind, cold, dampness, heat, dryness, and fire. These can be of exterior origin (related to extreme or sudden climatic changes such as invasion by wind-cold) or they can be internally generated, such as liver-wind.

PHLEGM—Results from an accumulation of bodily fluids due to a dysfunction of the lung, spleen, and kidney and impairment of water metabolism. Clinical manifestations are many and vary depending on the area of the body affected. Symptoms can include cough with profuse sputum, wheezing, fullness in the chest, palpitations, coma, manic-depressive disorders, lymph node swelling, nodules under the skin, dizziness, blurred vision, sensation of a foreign body in the throat, edema, general body aching and heaviness, nausea, vomiting of sticky fluid, borborygmus, stomach and abdominal discomfort.

PHLEGM-HEAT—Often seen in lung or stomach patterns, clinical manifestations include: yellow-sticky phlegm, barking cough with profuse yellow or green sputum, fullness in the chest, wheezing, dry mouth and lips, restlessness, red tongue with a sticky, yellow coating, and a rapid and slippery pulse.

PROTECTIVE QI (See WEI QI)

QI DEFICIENCY—Symptoms include: general weakness, lethargy, shortness of breath, weak voice, spontaneous sweating, loss of appetite, abdominal distension, loose stools, frequent urination, palpitations, pale tongue, and an empty pulse.

REN CHANNEL—Also known as the Conception Vessel, this channel has a regulating effect on all yin channels of the body. It regulates menstruation and nurtures the fetus. Symptoms of the ren channel include menstrual irregularities, white vaginal discharge, miscarriage, infertility, abdominal masses, enuresis.

SHAOYANG STAGE DISORDER—Refers to an intermediate stage of an illness where the pathogenic factors remain between the exterior and the interior. Pathological manifestations include: alternating chills and fever, fullness in the costal and hypochondriac regions, lack of appetite, mental restlessness, vomiting, bitter taste in mouth, dry throat, blurring of vision, and a tight pulse.
SHEN (See DISTURBED OR UNSTABLE SHEN)

SPLEEN DAMPNESS—Symptoms include: lack of appetite, sticky taste in the mouth or loss of sense of taste, nausea, fullness in the chest and abdomen, feeling of heaviness, loose stools, headache as if head were bound, sticky tongue coating, and a slippery pulse.

SPLEEN QI DEFICIENCY—Clinical manifestations include: sallow complexion, emaciation, tiredness, dislike of speaking, reduced appetite, abdominal distension, loose stools, prolapse, pale tongue with a thin, white coating, and an empty, weak, or thready pulse.

SPLEEN YANG DEFICIENCY—Symptom pattern includes: abdominal distension which is worse after eating, dull abdominal pain which improves with warmth and pressure, loose stools, pallor, cold limbs, poor appetite, pale tongue with white coating, and a deep and slow pulse.

STOMACH FIRE—Refers to two very different phenomena: 1) It is the warming and transforming power that the stomach contributes to digestion; 2) it is a pathological condition of organ fire that cause bleeding gums and or toothache. This second condition can be accompanied by other heat signs and even shen disturbance.

STOMACH PHLEGM—Symptoms include: nausea, vomiting of sticky fluid, stomach and abdominal fullness and discomfort, borborygmus, sticky tongue coating, and a slippery pulse.

STOMACH QI DEFICIENCY—Clinical manifestations include: uncomfortable feeling in the stomach, no appetite, lack of taste sensation, loose stools, tiredness (especially in the morning), weak limbs, pale tongue, and a weak and empty pulse (especially in the middle position of the right hand).

STOMACH YIN DEFICIENCY—Refers specifically to a deficiency of stomach fluids. When these fluids are deficient, signs and symptoms may include chronic digestive disturbance in the epigastrium, and dry mouth and throat. There will typically be scant dry coat on the tongue or no coat at all, since the tongue coat is generated by the stomach qi and consists of stomach yin.

SUMMER HEAT—One of the six pathogenic factors. Pathogenic summer heat is caused by prolonged exposure to blazing sun on hot days or to a hot room with poor ventilation. Summer heat consumes qi and yin and may disturb the mind. Symptoms include: excessive sweating, thirst, shortness of breath, lassitude, and concentrated urine; and in extreme cases, fever, restlessness, red, dry skin, and delirium or coma. May combine with damp to produce dizziness, heaviness in the head, stifling sensation in the chest, nausea, poor appetite, diarrhea, and general sluggishness.

TURBIDITY—Murky fluids due to weak transformation/transportation function of the spleen or to ingestion of spoiled food, too much alcohol, etc. Often associated with dampness.

WEI QI—Refers to defensive energy, which protects the body from invasion by external pathogenic factors.

WIND—One of the six pathogenic factors. External wind is usually combined with one of the other pathogenic factors (cold, heat, dampness, and dryness), which depend on wind to invade the body. Symptoms of external wind include: headache, stiff neck, nasal obstruction, sneezing, itching or pain in the throat, facial puffiness, aversion to wind, joint pains, and a superficial pulse. Internal or endogenous wind... causes symptoms such as headaches, stiff neck, irritability, dizziness, fainting, high fever, delirium, coma, convulsions, tremors, tics, blurred vision, numbness, facial paralysis, wandering pains.

WIND-COLD—Symptoms include: aversion to cold, shivering, sneezing, cough, runny nose with watery or white discharge, slight fever or no fever, neck pain and stiffness, normal tongue (normal color, thin, white coating), and a tight and superficial pulse.
